ONE LOT EXEMPT FROM ZONING LAW, OWNER SURPRISED

H. J. Hohn Didn't Know Act Was Amended to Permit Building His Garage
at 3700 Michigan Avenue

"MYSTERY TO ME,"
HE DECLARES

F. X. Hiemenz, His Attorney, Also in the Dark — Alderman Kraleman Introduced This Measure.

Among 15 amendments to the zoning ordinance, which are likely to be repealed by the Board of Aldermen because they were adopted without public hearings as required by law, is one that exempts a commercial district of one lot in a residence section at 3700 Michigan avenue, on which stands the Bungalow Garage & Filling Station, owned by Herman J. Hohn.

Hohn today declared that he did not seek the amendment; did not know it had been adopted; did not request its adoption, and simply built his garage without any thought of the zoning ordinance or its restrictions.

"It is a great mystery to me," said Hohn to a Post-Dispatch reporter.

The movement to repeal the 15 amendments is fostered by Alderman Ralph Wilcox, who, with the Post-Dispatch, is investigating the $100,000 escrow fund relating to the ordinance for removal of zoning restrictions on boarding houses in the 3500 block on Victor street.

Hohn today declared that he did not know of this restriction and went ahead with his plans. When he started to build, there was a protest from Charles F. Wippler, who owns a single flat adjoining Hohn's property on the south.

Wippler complained to Alderman John F. Pett of that ward, the Eleventh, and Pett began an investigation for Wippler.

"Pett told me he was shocked to think the Board of Aldermen would single out one lot in a residence section to make a commercial district of it, and after he had made inquiries at the City Hall, returned and reported to me that he had gone up there and raised hell," Wippler said to a Post-Dispatch reporter.

Hiemenz denies knowing of it. Hohn referred the reporter to Frank X. Hiemenz, his attorney, for a statement. Hiemenz declared he knew nothing of the amendment, except that recently Hohn placed some papers in his hands concerning other matters and at the time said something about the zoning ordinance.

Hohn did not represent Hohn in having the ordinance amended, said Hiemenz, "and know nothing about it. I do not even know that he had it amended."

The garage, which adjoins Hohn's filling station on the east, extends the full depth of the lot and cuts off a view of the street from Wippler's back yard. Wippler said he and Alderman Pett had made diligent inquiry to ascertain who owned the property, and that it had been introduced with other amendments by Alderman Kraleman.

Alderman Kraleman is chairman of the Public Safety Committee, and announced amendments to the zoning ordinance were submitted to him either by Director of Streets and Sewers Brod or by other Aldermen, for introduction to the Board of Aldermen.

The amendment favoring Hohn's property, setting up a commercial district on one lot in a residential section, differs from other amendments to the zoning ordinance which created commercial districts of whole blocks or broader areas.

No Public Hearing.

Wippler, Hohn's next door neighbor, says the amendment would have been opposed by the whole neighborhood had any public notice been given of Hohn's intentions to enlarge his business.

The law requires that for 15 days the city must publish notice of public hearings on zoning amendments. This was not done.

Coolidge Resents Being Used as a Drawing Card

Adopts Policy of Economizing Time at Unofficial Gathering — This Explains Hurried Departure From Lindbergh Ceremonies.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—In the following copyrighted article Robert Barry, staff correspondent of the Evening World, explains why President Coolidge has economized on the time he lends himself to social and semi-official functions:

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The President amazed and shocked one of the most distinguished audiences ever assembled in Washington when he walked out of the Lindbergh show Monday evening.

Mr. Coolidge devoted less than 20 minutes to a performance to which all Washington, save the elect, clamored in vain for admission. His own speech could have been read in three minutes, except for the applause which greeted his every reference to Lindbergh.

The President sat through the Lindbergh response, a halting, embarrassed address. Then motioning to Mrs. Coolidge, the President Coolidge decided on New Policy.

Mr. Coolidge intended no disrespect to Lindbergh nor to the other heroes of the air grouped about him. He has decided on a new policy which he believes should govern the public appearances of the President of the United States. He has set himself to the specific purpose of shattering the notion that there are certain semi-official duties of a social nature to which the White House is slave.

The Coolidge idea is that there has grown up a fallacious theory that the President is a servant at the beck and call of every civic group, lodge or trade which wishes to "dress up" its speaker's table at a Washington banquet.

Mr. Coolidge's first test of his new theory came when the Daughters of the American Revolution held their annual convention. An annual address by the President is a feature. He declined. He announced that he thought a speech every two years would be more appropriate. The D. A. R. leaders were shocked beyond words, yet the incident passed without serious comment.

Mr. Coolidge gave notice to newspaper men some months ago that he intended to attend only one Gridiron Club dinner a year in the future. As his purpose has been made clear, no invitation has been extended to him for the forthcoming Gridiron dinner. He will not be present, according to White House attaches.

Mr. Coolidge, in accepting invitations to address public meetings such as the impressive Hubbard Medal presentation of Monday night, wishes it to be understood that the President is honoring the occasion and should not be expected to sit through the entire performance for the privilege of a ringside seat.

He resents the idea that the President is a "prop" on the Washington stage, to be shunted about at the whim of every ambitious producer of a show in the national Capital. He is wholly impartial about it. He is stealing himself to apply the rule without fear or favor.

Mr. Coolidge's mistake, if any, reposes in his choice of occasions to demonstrate his theory.

Programs distributed at the ceremony Monday night called attention to the fact that the President would leave after presenting the medal.

Mr. Coolidge is represented as being resentful of the methods whereby he is forced to journey to the beach and call of every civic group, lodge or trade which wishes to "dress up" its speaker's table at a Washington banquet.

LEGATION CLERK, EXPECTING TO DIE, STEALS $31,000

Incurably Ill, Harry Krenz, Formerly in Charge of Disbursements at Pekin, Disappears With Money.

LATELY IN SHANGHAI UNDER AN ALIAS

Wife, Said to Be Destitute, Turns Over to U. S. Funds He Sent for Family's Support.

By the Associated Press.
PEKIN, Nov. 16.—American officials throughout the Orient are searching for Harry Krenz, former disbursing officer at the United States legation in Pekin, who is charged with the embezzlement of $31,000 gold in Government funds.

Krenz left Pekin late last month, ostensibly for a few days' hunting trip. Inquiries after he had over-stayed his leave have stated to have uncovered the defalcations.

Krenz was seen in Shanghai early in November, where he was living under an assumed name and spending money freely. It is thought he may now be aboard a British steamer between Hongkong and Singapore, due about Nov. 17.

American officials at Singapore have been instructed to arrest him if he lands there, while officials at Tokio and Manila also are watching for him.

Only recently Krenz discovered that he was in an advanced stage of tuberculosis and that there was little hope for his recovery. He resigned from his post in order to make an early return to the United States. He leaves a wife and three small children virtually destitute in Pekin.

Friends expressed the belief that Krenz defaulted during an aberration caused by the prospect of an early death. His first known defalcation took place early in October, after physicians had said that he probably had only a few months to live.

He remitted a portion of the money to his wife from Shanghai and Mrs. Krenz voluntarily returned the funds to the legation. Krenz then tried other expedients to send money to his wife and relatives, but the remittances were intercepted.

Krenz is about 35 years old. He was a former enlisted man in the Marine Corps and became a clerk in the legation code clerk and was promoted to the post of disbursing officer, at which he worked for three years.

The defalcations were by means of drafts on the United States Treasury with which he customarily paid the legation staff.

WOMAN UNCONSCIOUS 27 DAYS
Auto Victim Unaware She Became Mother of Twins.

By the Associated Press.
ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 16.—For 27 consecutive days Mrs. Joseph Dech, 28 years old, has lain unconscious, unaware that a few hours after she was injured in an automobile accident Oct. 20 she became the mother of twins.

Struck by an automobile as she was crossing a street, Mrs. Dech was picked up by unobservant motorists and taken to a hospital where doctors and boy and girl were born. Liquid foods have been given her. There has been virtually no change in her condition, since the accident. The twins are healthy.

Cuba to Pension Mrs. Wood.
HAVANA, Cuba, Nov. 16.—The Cuban House of Representatives has passed a bill granting a pension of $500 monthly to the widow of Major-General Leonard Wood, U. S. A. Gen. Wood was military Governor of Cuba, Dec. 12, 1899, until May 20, 1902.

REMUS WANTS 20 TESTS OF SANITY, COURT ALLOWS 3

Murder Defendant Loses Point, After Heated Argument—Requested by Judge for Wasting Time.

CAUTIONED TO END USELESS MOTIONS

Sought to Subpena U. S. Secretary of Labor and to Learn Whereabouts of Dodge.

By the Associated Press.
CINCINNATI, Nov. 16.—The three tests of temporary insanity commonly applicable in Ohio will be applied to George Remus, today by Judge Shook. Remus, in a long and heated appeal to the bench, demanded that the tests be considered as not limited to three, but taken in "possibly 10 or 15 or 20."

The clash between Remus, appearing as his own counsel, in his trial for the murder of his wife, came when Charles P. Taft II, Prosecuting Attorney, asked this question of Thomas Green, 70-year-old venireman:

"The Court will charge you that there are three legal tests of insanity which the jury must apply in their consideration of this case: will you follow this portion of the Court's charge rather than any ideas of your own or commonly accepted ideas as to insanity?"

The jury was sent from the room while Remus sought to have the Court rule that other tests might be applied. Judge Shook finally ruled that Taft might continue to ask the question in qualifying jurors.

Three Legal Tests of Sanity.
Since the trial started there has been frequent reference to the three tests. They are: Was the accused a free agent in forming the purpose to kill? Was he at the time capable of judging whether the act was right or wrong? Did he know at the time that it was an offense against the laws of God and man?

Judge Shook today granted permission for the tentative jurors to attend a theater, tonight, but when the nature of the show to which they had been invited was explained to him, first by defense counsel and then by Prosecutor Taft, Judge Shook rescinded his permission.

"The Court did not think the play," "The Barker," would be proper for the prospective jurors to witness, since Remus' defense is temporary insanity, and the play depicts a passage in which the male star of a wandering carnival in a flight of transitory insanity is saved from strangling a woman member of the cast only by the intervention of others.

Judge Shook has explained daily to tentative jurors and veniremen that while they will be isolated from the public in a hotel each night, special provisions would be made for entertaining them. It was with that in mind that the Court at first readily accepted the theater invitation for the jury.

New Venire of 50 Sworn.
Judge Shook swore a new special venire of 50 men and women today.

Another crowd thronged the Hamilton County courthouse corridors in a scramble for the 110 seats in the courtroom. The long line of men and women stood for hours in damp clothing after the trial through a pouring rain.

Remus came into court in a new gray suit, one of the 10 hanging in racks in his cell-office in the county jail. He scanned the faces of the new veniremen as they lined up around the courtroom for administration of a mass oath, the first step toward eligibility for possible selection to determine whether Remus, as he claims, was insane when he shot and killed his wife Oct. 6. Of the new venire of 50, only 30 answered to their names in court today. That gave 46 names to be considered, however, since 16 were left of the original venire of 75, of which 57 responded.

The second special venire was reduced to 29 when several mothers of small children and other members were excused.

Remus read a long motion asking Judge Shook to subpoena J. J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, to produce all records relating to the deportation case against the German-born Remus.

"The evidence will show that the deportation case was instituted by the deceased Mrs. Remus and Franklin L. Dodge Jr., and the record against Remus,"

SEIZURE OF $100,000 OF PROPERTY OF MISSING OIL TRIAL WITNESS ORDERED

CONTEMPT MOVE MADE AGAINST
HARRY BLACKMER

Government Seeks His Testimony as to Dummy Concern's Bonds in the Fall-Sinclair Case.

GRAND JURY ACTION ON SHADOWING NEAR

Only Documentary Evidence Remains to Be Presented; Investigation of Juror's Conduct Next.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Determined to force the issue against unwilling witnesses in the Fall-Sinclair oil reserve leasing conspiracy case, the Government today obtained a rule from the courts directing Harry M. Blackmer, missing witness, to show why he should not be held in contempt for failure to appear to testify, and at the same time ordering Blackmer's property to the extent of $100,000 to be seized.

Blackmer is said to be in France, and the order issued today by Justice Suddens, in the District of Columbia Supreme Court, can be blocked up, if necessary, by a $100,000 fine obtained from seizure of his property in the United States. Copies of the order, which is returnable on Jan. 6, 1928, were mailed to Blackmer's counsel. The Government plans to serve the rule for citation upon Blackmer and also to publish it in newspapers in this country.

Blackmer has refused to respond to subpoenas and his counsel indicated, when the Fall-Sinclair trial was in progress, that he considered the Walsh law, under which witnesses may be made, as unconstitutional. The proceeding would be for the United States Marshal to locate property while the case is fought out in the courts.

The testimony of the oil man was sought by the Government especially in connection with the formation of the Continental Trading Co., Ltd., of Canada, a reputed dummy concern, through which passed the $230,500 in Liberty bonds which the Government claims, found their way to Albert B. Fall after he had leased the Teapot Dome naval reserve to Harry F. Sinclair. Another missing witness is James E. O'Neil, also an oil man, who is said to be somewhere in Europe.

Roberts on Hand Again.
Today's court action was taken during a lull in the investigations of the jury tampering charges which caused a mistrial of the Fall-Sinclair case and coincided with the reappearance at the courthouse of Owen J. Roberts, of special oil counsel, who has remained in the background since the mistrial was ordered.

The action against Blackmer was based on a statute proposed at the last session of Congress. Its author was Senator Walsh (Dem.), Montana, who made the original charges of fraud in the oil leasing negotiations and later prosecuted the Senate oil inquiry.

The citation by Justice Suddens in regard to the seizure of Blackmer's property, ordered: "That the property of said Harry M. Blackmer within the United States of the amount and value of $100,000 be levied upon, seized by the Marshal of this court and held to satisfy any judgment that may be rendered against the said Harry M. Blackmer in this proceeding."

It was understood by the District Attorney that former Gov. Nathan L. Miller and George Gordon Battle of New York, counsel for Blackmer, would not oppose the seizure or seek to prevent service of the order.

Grand Jury Action on Shadowing Expected Soon.
Under the announced plans of the Government attorneys investigating the shadowing of jurors which resulted in a mistrial in the Fall-Sinclair case, several pieces of documentary evidence only remain to be placed before the grand jury for the inquisitorial body.

COMPANIES TO INSURE AGAINST AIR ACCIDENTS

Nearly 30 Big Firms Agree to Write Policies on Pilots and Passengers.

Edward Alberding Injured on Rock Island Tracks on Maryland Avenue.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Nearly 30 of the large life and accident insurance companies have agreed to issue policies for airplane pilots and passengers, George B. Foster, chairman of the Aviation Committee of the Chicago Chamber of Commerce said today.

Formal announcement by the companies to accept the safety of the air on commercial lines will be made soon, he declared. The policies will cover "those riding on a regular air transport line operated on a regular schedule between established airports in licensed aircraft in charge of licensed pilots."

Some companies will issue policies covering single trips while others will have a clause inserted in regular accident policies to cover flights at no additional premium. Tickets providing $5000 benefits in case of accident while taking an airplane trip designated on the ticket are now issued by one company at a cost of 25 cents.

Edward Alberding, a driver for the Pevely Dairy Co., was severely cut and bruised when a wagon he was driving on his milk route was struck by a passenger train at the grade crossing of Rock Island tracks and Maryland avenue, University City, at 7:15 a. m. today.

The front of the engine struck the rear of the wagon, hurling it to one side. Both doors of the wagon were closed and passing motorists who took Alberding from the floor of the wagon had to force them. Alberding was taken to a doctor's office in Clayton, where, after receiving emergency treatment, he was taken to the Baptist Hospital. The horse was cut and bruised, having been thrown to the ground when the wagon was struck.

The Maryland avenue crossing is guarded by a bell and flashing lights which warn traffic on the approach of a train.

Millionaire Owner of Office Buildings West Went for Benefit of Health Last Summer.

By the Associated Press.
MILWAUKEE, Nov. 16.—Eight hours of steady smoking increased the pulse, respiration, temperature and blood pressure of Vincent Maddi. The first three hours were the easiest, with no apparent ill effects.

Maddi is a medical student at the University of Maryland. To settle arguments over whether tobacco was harmful or not, he attempted yesterday to smoke 50 cigars in 12 hours while doctors made observations and recorded the results. For three hours he puffed steadily, with no apparent reaction. But at the end of the next three hours his pulse was 108 instead of 80, and his respiration 30 instead of 17. His blood pressure had increased from 120 over 75 to 132 over 80. He was feverish, irritable and restless. The last ended abruptly two hours later when the thirtieth cigar made him ill.

POLICE TRACE TEN ITALIAN MURDERS TO EXTORTIONISTS

Dispute of Russo and Palazzolo, Alleged Leaders, Over Money, Said to Have Started Killings.

TRIBUTE LEVIED ON WEALTHY MEN

Latest Victim, Ben Amato, a Baker, Shot by Two Gangsters — Police Seek 5 Suspects.

Warfare between two factions of Italians for supremacy in extortion of money from well-to-do merchants is responsible, police announced today, for 10 recent assassinations, the tenth victim being Ben Amato, who was shot down at High and O'Fallon streets yesterday.

The nine others shot and killed were:

Aug. 9—Tony Russo and Vincent Spizzuolo, near Chicago.

Aug. 24—Benjamin Giamanco and Aloys Beelman, the latter an innocent bystander, on Sixth street between Pine and Chestnut streets.

Sept. 9—Alphonse Palazzolo, at Tenth and Wash streets.

Nov. 10—Charles Palmisano, at Third street and Franklin avenue; Frank and Salvatore Aiello, at Springfield, Ill.

Nov. 12—Charles Casamento, in Carondelet Park.

6 of One Gang, 3 of Other.

Of the Italians killed, Russo, Spizzuolo, Giamanco and the Aiello brothers are placed with one faction, and Palazzolo, Casamento and Amato with the rival clique. The other Italian killed, Palmisano, was a wealthy merchant and, police say, one of the many prosperous Italians forced to pay tribute to the gangs.

The extortion was managed without much bloodshed until last August. Alphonse Palazzolo was the reputed head of the gang, and he had lieutenants to execute his orders. The gang took care of Italian bootleggers, protecting them from raids by Chicago gangsters and taxing the bootleggers for the service.

It also extorted money from legitimate Italian business men without performing any service. When a member of the gang entered a store and said to the proprietor, "Lend me fifty," or "We're getting up a purse for a sick family," the proprietor "contributed."

Some merchants have told police the gang's collectors made their rounds as often and as regularly as bill collectors. The collectors' demands were in proportion to the size of the merchant's business. For instance, a levy of 5 cents a bunch is said to have been collected on bananas brought into St. Louis.

Palazzolo-Russo Quarrel.

A quarrel between Palazzolo and his chief lieutenant, Russo, over money matters, started the present series of killings. Russo and his pal, Spizzuolo, were killed; Giamanco, friend of Russo, was next. Palazzolo, alleged to have boasted of having Russo and Spizzuolo killed, himself was killed. Palazzolo was killed, police think, because he stopped paying tribute after Palazzolo's death. The Aiello brothers were killed, presumably, because of suspicion that they killed Palmisano. Casamento and Amato, shot to death Saturday and yesterday, respectively, were associates of Palazzolo, and therefore, police reason, marked for death by the Russo faction.

John Giannola, con sugar dealer, indicted in connection with an investigation of East Side liquor graft, is in jail at Edwardsville and seemingly not overly anxious to furnish bail.

The latest victim, Ben Amato, owned a bakery and an oil station and lived at 1537 Hogan street. He was 44 years old and came two years ago from Sicily, where he had a wife and five children.

Slain After Shaking Hands.

At noon yesterday he engaged in a heated argument with two Italians on a lot at High and O'Fallon streets. Amato tried to pacify the other men and apparently thought he had succeeded. He shook hands with both, patted one on the shoulder and seemed to walk away. The two men then drew revolvers, fired 11 shots at Amato, threw their empty weapons at him and ran to an automobile in which they escaped with a third man at the wheel.

Amato, fatally wounded, ran across the street and fell dead. The car in which the assassins escaped was described by a witness as a green Hudson with Illinois license plates.

Amato's pockets contained $414 in currency, $9.19 in coins and a check for $73.60.

An order has been issued for the arrest of five notorious gunners, who have been sought, also, for the murder of Palazzolo. Four other suspects are under arrest.

Open Verdict of Homicide.

The usual coroner's verdict in gang murders—"homicide at the hands of unknown parties"—was returned today in the Casamento and Amato deaths, after police and eye-witnesses had testified to facts heretofore reported.

Funeral services for the Aiello brothers were held in Springfield yesterday. The funeral procession was estimated to have included 200 automobiles, including many with Illinois license plates.

Former Connecticut Girl Tells of Alleged Misconduct by Duke of Marino Torlonia.

By the Associated Press.
BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Nov. 16.—Duchess Elsie Moore Torlonia, formerly of Rome, now of Greenwich, Conn., who is seeking a divorce, was a witness in her own behalf in Superior Court today. She testified to the alleged infidelity on the part of Duke Marino Torlonia which led her to seek divorce. The alleged relationship of the Duke and Marie Lorenzino, the financial and domestic relations between the Duke and Duchess and the conditions of the Duchess' return to the United States all received attention in both direct and cross-examination.

The testimony of the Duchess was preceded by the introduction of two depositions, one by her chauffeur, Aldo Fava, and another by Sigmondo Chigi, son of Prince Chigi and a distant relative of the Duke.

The deposition of the chauffeur told how he followed Duke Torlonia and Marie Lorenzino to the apartment of the latter, watched them enter and observed that they remained all night. In consequence of this information, Duchess Torlonia testified, she taxed her husband with infidelity after having paid a visit herself to Mrs. Lorenzino. Instead of denying the charge, she said, her husband taxed her with having acted "bravely" on her visit to the other woman.

DEMPSEY IN FALLING ELEVATOR

Tex Rickard and Ex-Champion Unhurt in Nine-Story Drop.

By the Associated Press.
NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 16.—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion, and Tex Rickard, promoter, escaped injury today when a crowded elevator in which they were riding dropped from the ninth floor of the Chamber of Commerce Building to the basement.

They were leaving the tenth-floor quarters of the Federal Court, where Dempsey is defending himself in an action for $333,333.33 damages brought by his former manager, Jack Kearns.

Twenty or more persons crowded into the elevator with Dempsey and Rickard. Frank Ydsty, the operator, felt the elevator slip from his control as it passed the ninth floor. As the fifth floor was passed, Dempsey asked, "What's the matter?" "We're falling," Ydsty replied.

FOREMEN DENY NEWS ARTICLES SWAYED JURIES

Some Members, However, Read Stories Showing Drug Clerk Was Defendant in Two Trials.

The foremen of the two Federal Court juries which last week convicted Joseph M. Hobbs, a drug clerk, on two Volstead law charges, said today that they did not believe the juries were influenced by the news articles in the St. Louis papers, stating the fact that Hobbs was on trial in the two cases in immediate succession.

Judge Faris Saturday granted new trials in both cases, and delivered an opinion in which he questioned the right of newspapers to print the facts about cases while pending in court. He said that such publication, in England, would constitute contempt of court, and that as the English common law prevails here, the rule should be the same. He said he would ask the District Attorney to examine into the matter, "with a view to filing a prosecution for contempt against those who are guilty."

Some of the articles, stating that Hobbs was to be tried in two cases, were printed in time to be read by members of the first jury, and were read by some of the jurors.

After the first jury returned its verdict, Hobbs Wednesday, that fact was published in time to be read and was read, by members of the second jury, who did not agree in the case Wednesday.

After the second jury returned its verdict, Hobbs Thursday morning.

Jury Swayed by Argument.

A. E. Gwyer, chief of the Western Union telegraph company, said today that he did not believe the news publication had influenced the jury. He said no more than four members of the jury favored acquittal, and that these were won over by argument on the evidence heard, rather than by the fact that Hobbs was accused in another case.

Judge Shook refused to issue the order upon Secretary Davis and recommended that the jury be allowed to return its verdict.

The judge told Remus not to take up the time of the trial with any more such motions. Remus then demanded that Judge Shook direct the prosecutor to form the defense of the whereabouts of Dodge and some others.

Judge Shook declined to do so. He said the jury should decide the case on the evidence heard.

The greatest stumbling block in the interrogation of veniremen yesterday was opposition to capital punishment, which the prosecution demands be meted Remus for killing his estranged second wife Oct. 6.

The 41 veniremen interrogated in five days, were excused because they asserted they would not vote to send even the guiltiest of murderers to the electric chair. Seven of them passed through the jury box in succession yesterday.

Judge Shook's most important ruling of the trial came yesterday when he had to determine whether Remus' status as a defendant facing trial on a plea of transitory insanity disqualified him from qualifying jurors.

Over the strenuous objection of the prosecution, Judge Shook ruled that Remus might question the veniremen.

Remus seemed to be expecting anything unusual, when a venireman was passed as satisfactory to the State, but Remus put questions to the venireman's qualifications.

Remus has recovered from two storage places a great part of the furniture he alleged Mrs. Remus stripped from his mansion here when he served a term in the Federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., for wholesale bootlegging.

WALSH WOULD REMOVE BARRIERS TO TESTIMONY SUCH AS EVERHART'S

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—LEGISLATION to remove legal barriers which prevented Mr. J. Edgar Hoover from testifying in the Fall-Sinclair conspiracy trial on the ground that he might incriminate himself, is sought by Senator Walsh (D., Mont.), who led the Senate bill inquiry.

The Senator plans to have the President empowered to give a pardon to those who fear self-incrimination in cases of that kind, and would make acceptance of the pardon mandatory.

He would repeal the present statute of limitation which was placed at six years and would permit Remus to make the speech he would make in the trial of the Government and have it revert to the old statute of three years. Under such a law Everhart could testify without fear of incrimination.

Remus seemed to be expecting anything unusual, when a venireman was passed as satisfactory to the State, but Remus put questions to the venireman's qualifications.

Remus has recovered from two storage places a great part of the furniture he alleged Mrs. Remus stripped from his mansion here when he served a term in the Federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., for wholesale bootlegging.

ALDERMAN WIMER CAN'T GET ACTION ON RAPID TRANSIT

City Administration, He Says, Shows No Interest in Subways or New Franchise for Surface Lines.

Alderman Samuel L. Wimer said today that apparently the city administration did not want to take up the question of rapid transit at this time. Nor, he says, does it appear interested in any problems affecting the existing surface system.

He bases his conclusion upon his inability to obtain the assistance of C. E. Smith, chief engineer, in making a start toward the eventual building of subways or other forms of rapid transit.

His resolution for an inquiry by the Board of Aldermen into whether the St. Louis Public Service Co. needs a franchise, whether that franchise should be upon a service-at-cost plan or whether the city should undertake municipal ownership and operation of the railways remains pigeon-holed in the resolutions committee of the Board of Aldermen.

"I go to City Counselor Muench to ask him to draft a rapid transit bill and he refers me to City Engineer Smith," Wimer complained to reporters at City Hall. "I leave word at Smith's office requesting that he get in touch with me and I hear nothing from him. I call upon Kinney and he does nothing. I go to the Board of Public Service and they go out to pedal the traffic problem, at least, for the time being."

Wimer introduced the resolution for a surface system survey Sept. 30 when the Board reconvened after its summer vacation.

Spanish Honor to Ruth Elder.

MADRID, Nov. 16.—King Alfonso today signed decrees conferring the title of honorary member of the Spanish air forces on Ruth Elder, a street car conductor, and Donald King, a newspaper reporter, with two others sworn by assistants to the District Attorney informing the court of the activities of the Burns gang.

On the basis of these, Justice Frederick L. Siddons, the trial judge, yesterday directed the new inquiry, naming three members of the bar of the District of Columbia to pursue the investigation. They were instructed to go into the case thoroughly on behalf of the court and bring any contempt proceedings they might consider warranted.

The allegations of Akers and King have been denied by Kidwell. He has asked that they be cited for contempt for approaching him and attempting to lead him to talk of the trial. A hearing on his petition has been set for Friday.

The committee appointed by Justice Siddons to see if there has been contempt of his court, it is said, will have power to subpoena witnesses and, if it feels so inclined, may even go as far into the question as the Court itself would be empowered to go.

When Roberts left the court house, he was accompanied by William J. McMullin, the former Burns operative, who turned Government witness.

Roberts spent considerable time today with William J. McMullin, who charged Burns detectives with fabricating evidence to be used in a mistrial motion by the defense in the Fall-Sinclair trial, should it so desire. After calling at the courthouse, the special oil counsel left with McMullin in an automobile, and later the two returned to the District Attorney's office.

DENVER WOMAN SUES BROKER FOR $1000 A MONTH FOR LIFE

Counsel For Man Admits Agreement as Part Written and Part Oral, Terminable at Will.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—A comely woman from Denver, Colo., wearing a modish black toque with a silver washbone as ornament, sat in Supreme Court today while her lawyers opened a battle to get her $1000 a month for life from an insurance broker.

The woman was Miss Clara E. O'Reilly, 32 years old, and the defendant, William F. Alexander, who in 1924 admittedly promised her $1000 a month and later changed his mind.

"Alexander's position is this," defense counsel told the jury. "Yes, I have made a fool of myself, but I did the fair thing by this young woman and I'm going to draw the line somewhere."

EXPENDITURE OF $115,000 FOR STREET WORK FAVORED

Board of Aldermen Votes to Report Favorably on Three Important Projects.

Three important street improvements, to facilitate traffic, were recommended by the vote of the Street Committee of the Board of Aldermen today to report favorably on passage of ordinances for them.

Wood blocks, now being removed from Washington boulevard, between Sarah street and Pendleton avenue, will be replaced with asphalt, at a cost of $25,000, to be met with gasoline tax money. This is the last section of the unsatisfactory wood blocks on Washington, between Grand boulevard and Kingshighway.

Likewise, wood blocks will be removed from the rough stretch of De Baliviere avenue, between Delmar boulevard and De Giverville avenue. "Warrenton bluish surface will be substituted, for $43,980, of which $10,000 will come from bond issue funds and the balance from assessment of abutting property."

The parked strip is to be removed from the center of Skinker boulevard, between Wydown and Clayton avenues, and asphalt pavement laid, the expense of $40,000 to be met with bond money.

JUDGE BARS FIGHT PHOTOS IN PAPERS

Orders Indictment of West Virginia Journals That Printed Dempsey-Tunney Pictures

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 16.—The hundreds of newspapers throughout the United States which contained pictures of the Dempsey-Tunney prize fight at Chicago would be indicted for violating the Federal law forbidding the showing of motion pictures and an opinion expressed here yesterday by Federal Judge George W. McClintock in instructing the grand jury at the opening of the Northern term of the District Court of Southern West Virginia.

"I hold that the distribution of a newspaper generally among the people for public reading constitutes a public exhibition and that those papers publishing such pictures violate the law," McClintock said. "We have seen the fight, and we have seen the pictures which are staged by human brutes who are lower than the animals, but who are not lower than those persons who attend such exhibitions."

Referring to the action of the Charleston Gazette and the Charleston Daily Mail in publishing pictures of the Dempsey-Tunney fight, the Judge instructed the jury: "When you know that these pictures are published in newspapers deliberately published these pictures as received in interstate commerce through the mails, it is my opinion and I instruct you to do your duty by returning proper indictments against these papers."

Opposed to prize fights, he stated that his interpretation of the law had influenced newspapers of Southern West Virginia to cease publishing prize fight pictures five years ago and that they abided by his opinion until after "this" prize fight recently held somewhere out West.

Judge McClintock likewise emphasized the necessity for judges throughout the nation to tighten their decisions governing the showing of fight films in theaters.

"Elsewhere the sentiment seems to be that if the fine is paid to the theaters can go on showing films but I warn the moving picture interests that there will be no such liberal interpretation of the law in this district," he said.

Thereupon, the Star company says, the association promised that it would refrain from the policy of the organization. The Star company agreed to this proposal, it is stated, and declared a lockout, resulting in the loss for which suits. The association, it alleges, has failed to keep its agreement.

Defendants named in the suit, besides the organization, are the Langhams Dyeing and Cleaning Co., South Side Dyeing and Cleaning Co., Standard Cleaning and Dyeing Co., Leonard Dry Cleaning Co., Mildred Cleaners and Dyers, Inc., Dodson Cleaning Co., Standard Clothing Co., Standard Laundry and Cleaning Co., Stated Island Cleaning Co., Wolfman Cleaning and Dyeing Co., Yawitz Dyeing and Cleaning Co., A. C. W. Cissell, White Sox shortstop, Says He and Bride Will Live in St. Louis.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 16.—Chalmers W. Cissell of St. Louis, $123,000 recruit shortstop of the Chicago White Sox, was married here yesterday to Miss Bernice Ryner, a telephone operator, of Valley Junction, who had instituted criminal prosecution against him.

Cissell, who was purchased by the Chicago club from the Portland (Ore.) team, returned to Des Moines without extradition after his warrant had been served upon him in St. Louis. Yesterday he bought a wedding ring, he and Miss Ryner obtained a marriage license and they were married.

The shortstop announced that he and his bride would make their home in St. Louis, where he has been living at 1907 Newhouse avenue. Cissell is 23 years old and his bride is 20. She is the mother of a boy born several weeks ago immediately preceding the indictment of Cissell. The indictment will be dropped.

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 16.—The Manitoba Free Press says that a determined attempt to eliminate the bootleg liquor trade from the Province, the Manitoba Government has prepared drastic changes in the Provincial liquor laws.

Not only will the sale of beer by the glass be legalized, but the Government will provide for the sale of hard liquor through a cash and carry system, the newspaper says.

Under the present liquor laws, whisky can be purchased only from the Government stores, which make delivery direct to the residence of permit holders.

CLEANING FIRM SAYS LABOR FIGHT COST IT $50,000

Star Co. Sues Masters' Association and its 19 Member Concerns for $43,000 of This Amount.

PETITION SAYS PLANT HAS BEEN UNIONIZED

Agreement of the Association Whereby It Was to Be Remunerated for Losses Alleged.

It cost the Star Dyeing and Cleaning Co. nearly $50,000 to fight the union of its employees in its plant today against the St. Louis Master Cleaners and Dyers' Association and 19 member firms. The Star company, at 2615 North Grand boulevard, formerly was a non-member, but now is a non-member, and has unionized its plant, its petition says.

The Star company is suing the association and the 19 firms for $43,000, alleged to have been lost through the fight with the union last spring and summer. A sum between $6,000 and $7,000 was received by the company from the association, the company's lawyer said, though this is not stated in the petition, which says only that $43,000 more is due, under an agreement by which the organization was to refund its losses.

The purpose of the association, the petition states, is to regulate the business of the company members. The policy of the organization was open-shop, or non-union. Feb. 19 last, it is stated, a situation arose which called for action by the association. The Star company joined the organization, that to avert a strike, it was about to declare a closed shop, or union, policy.

Thereupon, the Star company says, the association promised that it would refrain from the policy of the organization. The Star company agreed to this proposal, it is stated, and declared a lockout, resulting in the loss for which suits. The association, it alleges, has failed to keep its agreement.

Defendants named in the suit, besides the organization, are the Langhams Dyeing and Cleaning Co., South Side Dyeing and Cleaning Co., Standard Cleaning and Dyeing Co., Leonard Dry Cleaning Co., Mildred Cleaners and Dyers, Inc., Dodson Cleaning Co., Standard Clothing Co., Standard Laundry and Cleaning Co., Stated Island Cleaning Co., Wolfman Cleaning and Dyeing Co., Yawitz Dyeing and Cleaning Co., A. Portrait for Which City Paid $22,500

—By a Post-Dispatch Staff Photographer.

"A Portrait of a Spanish Nobleman of the Escobar Family," by El Greco.

"Shame" to Spend $22,500 For Painting, Says Nolte

Comptroller, Paying $12,000 As First Installment on Museum's El Greco Acquisition, Asserts Hospitals Need Money.

A bill for $12,000 as first payment for an El Greco masterpiece,
"Portrait of a Spanish Nobleman of the Escobar Family," purchased by the City Art Museum for $22-
500, was paid yesterday by City Comptroller Nolte, who said he thought the expenditure was "a shame."

"The city hospitals and elementary institutions are overcrowded for lack of money to enlarge them, and public works need money badly," Nolte commented. "To spend that much money for a picture to hang on a wall where few people ever see it is a shame. The Museum and Zoo and Public Library have too much money. They shouldn't be permitted to throw it away on extravaganzas. If their tax revenues cannot be raised, at least the city should have control over their expenditures."

S. L. Sherer, director of the Art Museum, would not enter any controversy with Nolte over museum expenditures.
The Museum Board of Control today issued a statement, in which it said the city should be proud of the acquisition of "this magnificent example of the work of El Greco," which "will add distinction to our already distinguished museum and afford another proof that the Spirit of St. Louis has risen above material things."

A former owner of the Independent

Olive street, who had been em-owner, Charles Winters, until his discharge two days ago, was found in the front office of the company early today after Winters had received a telephone message at his home that a burglar had entered the building. A pinch bar was found on the floor near the safe,

but this had not been noticed.
Winters said he had discharged
the man for drinking and, anticilocks on all entrances except the rear door. It was through that door that the burglar had entered.

A warrant will be sought today.

are serving in the United States Army

Both are charged with having

'NO MONEY, NO LOVE,' LEADS TO DIVORCE

Mrs. James O. Hall Quotes
That Sentiment as Her Husband's in Obtaining Decree.

"Where there is no money, there is no love."

This statement was attributed to James O. Hall by his wife, Mrs.
Marion Hall of 5281 Waterman avenue, as having been made to her in the first week of their married life, last spring. Mrs. Hall obtained a divorce today, with restitution of her name in her former marriage, Fraser. She is the daughter of Harry T. Smith of 55 Kingsbury place, secretary of the Lammert Furniture Co.

Mrs. Hall, charging general indignities and nonsupport, testified that she and her husband lived at Hotel Statler for four days after their marriage, May 26, and that during that time he asked her for the money which he said her father had given her. She replied that her father had not given her money, and she said Hall then struck her, knocking her across the room, and uttered the mercenary sentiment already quoted. She said he was intoxicated much of the time, abused her and failed to support her, and that he deserted her in Little Rock Sept. 7.

Testifying as the sole witness for

Duffy residence and saloon at 6929 Minnesota avenue.

"The trouble began when my wife came down to the saloon from upstairs and told me I'd have to get some one to help her with the work," Duffy testified. "I told her we couldn't afford help and she went back upstairs. That was about 4:30 o'clock."

"Then my son came down stairs. He was carrying a quart soda bottle in each hand. As he came toward me, two customers in the saloon grabbed him and forced him back to the steps, so he went back upstairs."

"I started upstairs myself an hour later and met my son on the steps. He was standing on the landing and he began to throw soda bottles at me. One of them smashed a panel from a door. Another broke a window glass. I believed my life was in danger."

"I went downstairs and picked up a shotgun near the bar. I held it in my hand, not intending to shoot it, and as he came toward me I said: 'Now, Edward, you go back upstairs. I don't want to have any trouble with you.'"

"He went up the steps but he started to throw bottles from the landing. I just wanted to scare him, so I fired up the steps, thinking to shoot into the wall at the landing. I thought he was around the corner but the shots struck him."

Here Duffy, a stout, ruddy-checked man, began to sob and he
rect examination in tears.

Tells of Refusing to Sign.
Duffy said he had refused to sign a statement prepared for him
by Police Lieut. Fred Reinwald because the statement did not include the fact that Duffy had fired only to scare his son and thus stop him from throwing bottles.

At the start of the trial today
the State announced it had hoped to use Mrs. Emma Duffy, wife of the defendant, as its chief witness, since she was the only witness to the actual shooting, which occurred on the stairway between the first and second floors. One witness testified, however, to hearing a woman's scream, a crash of glass and a shot, and to finding young Duffy shot, his mother ministering to him, a window pane broken and bottles shattered on the floor. A policeman testified to arresting Duffy outside the building.

YOUR ST. LOUIS
How Well Do You Know It?

ST. LOUIS PHOTO-ENGRAVING COMPANY

Few people realize that St. Louis, due to its strategic position, the diversification of its industries, the excellence of its newspapers, advertising agencies and printing industry, is fast becoming the buying center of the country for Photo-Engraving.

(As some may not know what Photo-Engravings are, let it be said that they are printing plates, made by a photo mechanical process, from which it is possible to print any kind of picture.)

Responding to the ever-increasing demand of the public for pictures in printed matter, the Photo-Engraving industry in St. Louis has advanced within a few short years from a few men, to an industry employing hundreds of men in its Photo-Engraving, art and business departments. Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been invested in special equipment and the training of skilled craftsmen.

St. Louis Photo-Engraving Plants undoubtedly lead the world in the quality and quantity of photo-engraving and art work used in advertising such things as shoes, stoves, etc., for which this city is noted industrially. Its black and white and color process plates have likewise long been recognized by national advertisers for their superior quality and finish.

St. Louis is destined to become the art and photo engraving center of the country.

Every day this space will be devoted to some one plant or industry that is contributing to the dynamic growth of St. Louis.

CITES ANTI-TRUST ACT IN ATTACK ON TRANSFER PLAN

Glendy B. Arnold Assails Railways' Proposal to Give Monopoly to Columbia Terminals Co.

A monopoly of the St. Louis freight transfer business, such as the Columbia Terminals Co., would be in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act, Glendy B. Arnold, attorney for the Chamber of Commerce, declared today as an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing on the carriers' proposal ended at Hotel Chase.

"The contract by which the roads would give the transfer company a monopoly of the business also operates to prevent any competition in that no other company is to be recognized as official," Arnold declared in outlining the position of the Chamber of Commerce. "It forms a combination to destroy competition and as such is, I believe, in violation of the Sherman act."

Says He Represents Shippers. Making clear the position of the chamber, Arnold told Examiner Ames, who has conducted the hearings since Nov. 2, that he took part in the proceedings as representative of an organization which included in its 2900 members all of the large shippers as well as the public utilities and the railroads themselves.

"Our stand, however, is that what is best for the greatest number should prevail," he said. "To that end the Chamber of Commerce insists that competition be maintained."

Alton Road Opposes the Deal. On behalf of the Chicago & Alton, the only St. Louis trunk line which did not join in the tariff giving exclusive recognition to the Columbia Terminals, P. H. Towner told the examiner that the receivers of his road were opposed to a monopoly as "a bad thing for trade" and declared that competition was desirable.

The Chicago & Alton receivers have proposed in another tariff that the direct delivery allowance, refunded to the consignee or transfer company for setting down freight shipments at the consignee's door, be increased from the present rate of 2 cents a hundred pounds, to 5 cents.

Towner's statement of position upheld the correctness of this figure, while Arnold, for the Chamber of Commerce, declared the allowance for store-door deliveries should be increased to promote direct deliveries. Under the present allowance only 3 per cent of less-than-carload freight is set down at the doors and the remainder is delivered to freight transfer company off-track stations, a process that loses time for the consignee and is additionally expensive.

Sixty Days for Filing Briefs. The other organization, who were represented in statements of position were the Association of Team and Truck Owners, the St. Louis Shippers' Conference Association and the Central Transfer Co., the Columbia's only remaining competitor. The railroads' statement in behalf of its tariff for the monopoly, and against the C. & A. tariff for an increased direct delivery allowance, was made by Louis H. Strasser, of the Wabash legal staff.

At the conclusion of the statements Examiner Ames announced that 60 days would be allowed for filing briefs. The plan will be argued by counsel and rate experts before the Commission some time in February and the examiner will then file his findings, making recommendations which the commission can accept or refuse as it sees fit.

The protestants continued yesterday in their efforts to show that railroad representatives owned stock in the Columbia Transfer Co., or the La. Payer Trailer Co., which have interlocking officers. Charges have been made that the railroads were influenced in trying to get the monopoly for the Columbia, by interested officers of the roads.

11 CITIES ASK FOR G. O. P. CONVENTION

Kansas City Among the Petitioners—Philadelphia Only Eastern Bidder.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Ten cities in the West and one in the East have asked for the next Republican national convention. The cities which indicated they were seeking the convention before the time for filing petitions expired last night, are Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Denver, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Omaha, Philadelphia, Seattle, San Antonio and San Francisco.

This list was forwarded to headquarters of the Republican National Committee. Roy O. West of Chicago, its secretary, explained that the formal proposals of Omaha and Detroit had not been received, but both had sent word they would have their petitions in shortly.

Minneapolis advised that some difficulty would arise if the convention were held at the usual time early in June, on account of the leasing of the convention hall for other purposes, but confidence was expressed that this could be worked out if that city were chosen.

Choice of the convention city will be made by the national committee early in December.

In its letter to prospective petitioning cities, the committee inquired as to location and accessibility of convention halls, hotel accommodations and the like. Cities were asked to underwrite expenses of the convention but it was emphasized that these expenditures seldom went over $125,000, exclusive of the cost of the convention auditorium.

Half of Kansas City's $150,000 Convention Fund Subscribed.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 16.—Kansas City's $150,000 fund necessary to guarantee the expenses of the Republican national convention, in the event it is held here, is approximately half subscribed. Sentiment at a meeting yesterday was that the balance of the money is available and will be collected.

KEEP YOUR STOMACH YOUNG AND SWEET

Every bite of food you eat MUST be digested, and the waste matter eliminated. That's sure. If your stomach is sluggish and old, from the excessive acids which keep eating away the gastric juices, you must dissolve them, or you never will be free from indigestion, sour risings, bloating and drowsiness after you eat.

Get a package of Pape's Diaprepain from your nearest drug store and chew one of the tablets after meals. Instantly the distress is relieved, it dissolves the acids, sweetens the stomach and you will have an appetite again like you had when a child. All drug stores have Pape's Diaprepain. More than 5 million packages are used a year.

CREDIT LIST PADDING CHARGED AT HEARING

Witnesses in Bankruptcy Proceeding Say Lawyer Collected on False Claims.

Further testimony that Jacob Meliman, an attorney with offices in the Title Guaranty Building, padded the list of creditors in the case of a client, Sam Stein, bankrupt clothing merchant, and collected the proceeds for himself, was given at a hearing before Referee in Bankruptcy Coles yesterday by officers of the Midwest Loan Co.

Samuel Brand, treasurer and former president of the Midwest company, and Louis White, an attorney and former secretary of the concern, testified that a claim for $240 made against Stein under an assignment to creditors in 1925 in behalf of the loan company was unauthorized. Brand and White testified that $240 was due the Midwest company from Stein at the time of the assignment, but that the sum was paid by indorsers of Stein's note.

The witnesses declared that a check for $58.25, made payable to the Midwest company and indorsed "Midwest Loan Co., by Jacob Meliman, their attorney—Jacob Meliman," was never received by the company and that they saw the check for the first time several months ago in the hands of investigators.

At a previous hearing William S. Cohen, former president of the South Broadway Loan Association, testified that a claim for $500 against Stein in his behalf was fictional. Cohen denied that Stein ever owed him money and testified that he was not aware that Meliman had collected a pro-rated dividend of $76.85 in settlement of the alleged debt until advised of the fact by investigators.

As has been told, Stein testified before the Referee that Attorney Meliman took merchandise valued at $450 from Stein's store at 2743 Cherokee street subsequent to the filing of the deed of assignment, explaining that "the stuff belongs to creditors." Records in the case show that Meliman collected $175 under the assignment for services as Stein's attorney. An investigation of Meliman's activities in the case is being conducted by Department of Justice agents under order of Federal Court.

When Food Sours

Sweeten the stomach—instantly

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of the Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

LARGEST NAVY PLANE CARRIER COMPLETED

Saratoga, 888 Feet Long, Said to Be Fastest Big Ship Afloat.

By the Associated Press.
CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 16.—The 25,000-ton carrier Saratoga, sixth of that name, and the largest and fastest large vessel built for the navy, was commissioned as a ship of the line today.

The ceremony took place on the deck of the vessel, floating peacefully in a slip of the American Brown Boveri Electric Corporation on the Delaware River and was witnessed by a crowd of about 500 invited civilian guests.

Nearly 1000 officers and enlisted men of the navy and a detachment of marines, which will make up the crew of the floating airplane field, participated in the brief ceremony. Admiral Julian S. Lattimer of the Philadelphia Navy Yard accepted the ship, and Capt. Harry E. Yarnall gave his first order: "Get the ship ready."

The vessel is capable of making 33 knots and is to be equipped with 85 airplanes. It will be assigned to the Pacific fleet.

For another week the Saratoga will remain in its berth in the Brown Boveri Yards here before starting down the Delaware River next Wednesday to Philadelphia navy yard for installation of the final equipment.

This contemplated trip has given naval officers something to worry about for the boat is 888 feet in length and they are faced with the problem of turning the vessel about in the 1500-foot river and guiding it down the narrow channel six miles to the navy yards.

It is expected to take about six weeks to install the submarine signaling and fire-control apparatus, scrape and paint the ship's hull and make certain engine tests. Then the Saratoga will go to sea.

At Newport, R. I., she will take on torpedoes and will be made at Hampton Roads for ammunition. From there she will sail for the west coast, where speed and endurance trials will be made.

The cost of the Saratoga was said to have been more than $25,000,000. She is a sister ship to the Lexington, now under construction at Quincy, Mass.

TANKER SAVES SEVEN ON WATER-LOGGED SHIP

Survivors Had Scant Protection From Cold Rain and Gale for Three Days.

PORT ARTHUR, Tex., Nov. 16.—Capt. E. Long and six members of the crew of the water-logged and abandoned four-masted schooner Adelaide Day who were rescued by the tanker Gulflight reached Port Arthur yesterday.

For three days the seven men, soaked to their skins, huddled on the afterhouse of the schooner. There was no other habitable place left aboard and scant protection was afforded them on the last remaining spot fairly free from the waves that swept over the water-logged ship. A sail fashioned into a crude shelter offered them their only protection.

The storm had only slightly abated when the master of the Gulflight, Capt. B. Iverson, sighting their oil flares, hove to the schooner.

A small boat was lowered from the tanker and pulled over to the schooner under the lee of the stern. The wet, cold and hungry crew slid down ropes into the boat and rode through the heaving swells to the tanker. There they got their first dry clothing and hot food in three days. They had subsisted on canned beef.

The Gulflight sighted the stricken vessel Nov. 8 about 250 miles south of Beverly, Mass. The Gulflight was on its way from Beverly to Port Arthur, and the Adelaide Day was carrying lumber from Georgetown, S. C., to Bridgeport, Conn., when she went adrift.

BRITISH COMMONS IN UPROAR

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Nov. 16.—Disorder in the House of Commons during debate on a Labor motion for a vote of censure of the Baldwin Government for neglect of the unemployment and cost problems, caused temporary adjournment of the House today.

In the midst of an uproar from the opposition benches who wanted Premier Baldwin himself to answer the Labor charges, the speaker adjourned the sitting until 6 o'clock. The tumult followed an address by Ramsay MacDonald, former Premier and Labor leader, who introduced the motion of censure. When Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, president of the Board of Trade, rose to reply, the opposition would not hear him. Shouts of "Baldwin" and "The Prime Minister" were so loud that he was unable to begin his speech.

Renewed disorder caused a second adjournment 7 minutes after the House had been called to order after the temporary suspension.

DURANT MERGER TO BE SECOND TO GENERAL MOTORS

Half Billion Dollar Combine of Independent Auto Plants Said to Be Projected.

TWO ST. LOUIS FIRMS INCLUDED

Re-Entry of Ford Into Production Thought to Have Speeded Proposed New Alliance.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16. — When William C. Durant announced nearly a year ago that he was "back on the job," meaning that he was going to concentrate on the motor industry and allow Wall street operations to occupy a secondary place, he had plans, according to reports yesterday in Wall street, and telegrams from the Middle West, far more ambitious than mere development of the motor enterprises within which his name has been identified in recent years.

These plans embrace the formation of another motor merger second only to General Motors, which he founded many years ago, control of which was taken from him by the Dupont and other interests operating through banking alliances in Wall street.

Since Durant's return to the active direction of the Durant and Flint corporations, several independent motor stocks have been under accumulation in Wall street, and it now turns out that their acquisition has a very much more important purpose in view than mere speculative operations.

Companies Named in Merger.

According to a Wall street story, Durant and his friends have acquired enough stock and obtained options to the extent that possible units in the new motor company may include the Packard Motor Co., on which an option, according to the gossip, has been obtained at a price of $200,000,000; the Moon of St. Louis, with a capital and surplus of almost $3,000,000; Jordan Motors, with a capital and surplus of almost $3,000,000; Chandler-Cleveland Motors Co., with a capital of $10,000,000; Peerless Motor Co., $10,000,000; Huppy Motor, almost $20,000,000; Gardner Motors of St. Louis, with a capital of more than $1,000,000, and the Adam Axle, an independent company which is an important builder of motor car axles and other units.

Added confirmation was found in the statement in banking circles that Durant had made an inspection of the Chandler-Cleveland motor plant in Cleveland and that the bankers who control these important properties believe the solution of the independent problem is the inclusion of the companies as well as other units, in a merger that will become a formidable competitor of General Motors.

Ford's Attitude a Factor.

There is little doubt that the re-entrance of Henry Ford into production is largely responsible for the decision of the independent companies to open negotiations with Durant.

More than a year ago, the head of the banking house which is most concerned in the present negotiations, and that is Hornblower & Weeks, made an offer of $1,000,000,000 to Henry Ford for his properties and good will. This banker was Col. John W. Prentice. Col. Prentice said he was willing to renew the offer at any time. On another occasion, Col. Prentice made the statement that he believed the only hope of the complete reconstruction of the independent interests was a merger. At that time, however, no plans had been made. The idea, however, undoubtedly has been carried out to the extent that negotiations have reached a point where the formation of a $500,000,000 independent corporation, including the companies mentioned and perhaps others, which would embrace the Durant and Flint corporations, is a strong possibility.

Technical details may be expected. Durant probably will return to New York within a day or two, but it is improbable that he will be willing to make any statement until his plans assume more definite shape.

ARSENAL ST. VIADUCT
PLANS ARE OUTLINED

Contract for Unit in New Traffic Artery Are Likely to Be Let by Feb. 1.

A contract for the Arsenal street viaduct over the Frisco railway and the River des Peres valley, which will provide an important new traffic artery, is expected to be awarded about Feb. 1, Director of Streets and Sewers Brooks told the Twenty-fourth Ward Republican Club, meeting at 1147 South Kingshighway, last night.

The project will take a year to complete, and the plan is to follow this by building a new street from the western end of the bridge to McCausland and Manchester avenues, as part of the boulevard to follow the southwestern city limits.

Within the last two weeks, Director Brooks related, a proposal has been taken under consideration to widen Arsenal street from 60 to 70 or 80 feet, from Kingshighway to Jamison avenue, the eastern end of the viaduct. It is broad now between Grand boulevard and Kingshighway. Between Fifty-ninth street and Jamison avenue there are two 14-foot roadways, separated by a 16-foot park strip.

The Director announced he next year to pave this central strip with bond issue funds. It had been left, he explained, to reduce original expense of the street to abutting property and to provide for a trolley extension which remains indefinite.

The most important improvement project in the Twenty-fourth Ward, which is the big southwestern area of the city that has been largely undeveloped until recent years, he said, is the proposed $50,000 five-mile southwest joint district sewer, to drain the land lying between Eichelberger and Southwest avenues and between the River des Peres valley and the Sublette-Hampton section.

If negotiations now under way for a right-of-way are successful, the speaker declared, at least two years will be saved in starting the work, as compared with condemnation procedure. In the past, said the Director, drainage has been cared for by sink holes, which are filling up now, and by ravines.

Among improvements contemplated in the southwestern district, described by Director Brooks, are: Reconstruction of Southwest avenue, Columbia avenue to city limits, next summer.

Grading Lansdowne avenue, Watson road to city limits, next summer, paving of eastern part of this stretch, to start city's connection with a country traffic artery; erection of a bridge to carry Lansdowne traffic over the River des Peres channel.

Creation of River des Peres parkway along the city limits; the condemnation suit is in Circuit Court and Director Brooks advised his audience to urge their Aldermen to press for appointment of the condemnation commissioners.

Creation of a southwest industrial highway as part of an outlying commercial thoroughfare between Carondelet and Baden, which will be only a quarter of a mile longer than Broadway, although it will parallel the outer city limits.

Extension of Chippewa street west from Kingshighway.

Opening of the Hampton-Billon major streets to bisect the southwestern section between Kingshighway and McCausland avenue.

BARGE EXTENSION URGED ALONG WITH FLOOD CONTROL

Valley Delegates Would Put Entire Inland Waterways Program Up to Army Engineers.

AGAINST PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT

James E. Smith Re-Elected as President and C. A. Newton Made General Counsel for Board.

Extension of Government barge lines and authorization of additional capital for the Inland Waterways Corporation, which operates the Mississippi Valley Association in its policy for the coming session of Congress, as formulated in its closing session yesterday at Hotel Statler. The unanimously adopted statement of policy also, for the first time, commits the association to urge the Government to bear the full cost of flood control; deprecates amateur plans and puts the technical job up to the Army Engineers; commends their record and opposes a Public Works Department to take responsibility from them and the contractors; bill to take the actual labor of river and harbor work out of their hands; urges further Government fostering of the Merchant Marine; places flood control first but insists that "the program already adopted for the improvement of the streams of the Mississippi Valley for navigation purposes shall not be curtailed or delayed but that, co-ordinated wherever practicable and independent when necessary, the navigation program of the Valley be carried to prompt completion as it has been authorized by Congress."

Smith Re-elected President. James E. Smith of St. Louis was re-elected president of the association, which is the waterways mouthpiece of 40 organizations in 22 states. Smith has given his whole time to the movement for 22 years, without compensation and at his own expense. "Intelligence and information and the fact that he has no ax to grind have made him a power at Washington. A movement to replace him by a younger man was withdrawn when former Congressman Newton and A. Newton refused to run against him and told Smith's opponents that Smith actually favored the projects they wished to put over, but that his methods were somewhat different. Newton even declined to come before the floor upon recommendation of the Nominating Committee, as a candidate for "executive vice president and general counsel," but last night was made general counsel by the board of directors, with a salary which is reported to be $10,000 a year.

Newton was leader of the river bloc in Congress and his waterways knowledge and sincerity are nationally recognized. Senators Reed and Robinson, Secretary of War Davis, former Gov. Parker of Louisiana and other noted speakers, as well as Newton, came regularly to Smith's defense when it appeared his re-election was in doubt, but the opposition subsided on the first day.

Comment of Reed's Speech. Whatever political advantages any speaker might appear from the comments of the delegates, to have gone to Senator Reed. The Senator had prepared a rather dull manuscript in an effort to be politically circumspect, but tossed it aside—although explaining, with an effort, from talking of politics—and delivered an address which was considered impassioned, but eminently well informed. Leaders were calling it the "keynote."

Secretary of Commerce Hoover talked along the same lines, a co-ordinated development of all water resources, on which he has spoken for two years. His program has been adopted in essentials as the program of the association. The association urged prompt action on the authorized improvement of the Upper Mississippi and Upper Missouri rivers, the Illinois River section of the Lakes to the Gulf waterway, and the great Intracoastal Canal from New Orleans to Corpus Christi. It urged both major political parties adopt flood control and waterways plans.

U. S. Engineers Landed. It was emphatic on the point that flood control must be based on the plans to be submitted by the Army Engineers and that it was not the province of laymen to suggest methods. It declared that creation of a Public Works Department would "inevitably reduce river and harbor work from the present high plane" and expressed "gratitude and confidence" in the Army Engineers' "long record of loyal, faithful, efficient and honorable public service."

While it did not mention the extension of Government barge lines and authorization of additional capital for the Inland Waterways Corporation, which operates the Mississippi Valley Association in its policy for the coming session of Congress, as formulated in its closing session yesterday at Hotel Statler. The unanimously adopted statement of policy also, for the first time, commits the association to urge the Government to bear the full cost of flood control; deprecates amateur plans and puts the technical job up to the Army Engineers; commends their record and opposes a Public Works Department to take responsibility from them and the contractors; bill to take the actual labor of river and harbor work out of their hands; urges further Government fostering of the Merchant Marine; places flood control first but insists that "the program already adopted for the improvement of the streams of the Mississippi Valley for navigation purposes shall not be curtailed or delayed but that, co-ordinated wherever practicable and independent when necessary, the navigation program of the Valley be carried to prompt completion as it has been authorized by Congress."

Of Making Many Books

JOHN G. NEIHARDT

Revaluing the Classics

Literary Blasphemies. By Ernest Boyd. (Harper's.)

Ernest Boyd has written for those who are not convinced that there are no more books to be written. He is therefore addressed to a relatively small public, but it is a public that is growing. Those who are addicted to swallowing half truths whole with all their blustering sauce of error will find Mr. Boyd's penetrating and stimulating discussions of the literary reputations of the past more than he is evidently an honest critic. Wherever the discussion of a famous work of literature is concerned, and quite competent to do so, the illiterate intelligentsia (and this is no longer necessarily a contradiction in terms) will hail the book with great glee as another proof of the curious notion that all the alleged greatness of the literary past is the bunk.

Unfortunately, the human conception is likely to be quite bunkish, and in seeking and concentrating upon the bunk spots, the cultural landscape can be made to appear like the leavings of a tornado. Many people, not wholly under the hypnotic spell of literary tradition, must have wondered often if there might not be considerable exaggeration in the conventional conception of the greatness of the past. Most people will read without a thought of protest the ridiculous statement of H. G. Wells to the effect that "Shakespeare turned every word to music," and in general, even those who have actually read Shakespeare and found in his works very much that is far from great, are loath to say just that aloud, so powerful is the despotism of an unexamined tradition.

Marvellous as Homer truly is, it is not the intrinsic merit of the Iliad and Odyssey that has convinced so many generations of Homer's greatness, for only a relative few of those who have condescended to read the poems. It has been the tremendous enshrining legend of greatness that has impressed, rather than the intrinsic merit of the poems that have given it such enormous power throughout the Middle Ages and for centuries thereafter, for there came a time when it was not read at all, but for something vastly different. The original impetus given to the poem by Augustus and his court had far more to do with the matter than had the undeniable beauty and power of the work itself.

Very recently, and even now to a very considerable extent, in pelagic circles—an intelligent person was expected to throw catfish of enthusiasm over certain classical lyrics that are really inferior to much of the magazine verse of the day.

Ernest Boyd is one who has read the classics for what they could do for him—which is a very good way to read them; and his findings have been that the classics are the most despotic traditions surrounding the modern mood have had much to do with the matter than had the undeniable beauty and power of the work itself.

MEETINGS IN 30 CHURCHES

PREPARE FOR BILLY SUNDAY

Evangelist Will Arrive in St. Louis Jan. 8 to Open 8-Week Revival in Coliseum.

Meetings were held in about 30 churches yesterday afternoon after Sunday by pastors of a number of Protestant denominations to complete plans for a series of bi-weekly prayer meetings in preparation for the coming of the Rev. William A. (Billy) Sunday Jan. 8 to begin an eight-week evangelistic campaign at the Coliseum. The Rev. Norman B. Harrison, pastor of the Memorial Presbyterian Church, Stinker and Alexander drive, is conducting the arrangements of the local churches.

Best Way to Loosen Stubborn Cough

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, throat tickle, bronchial asthma, or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2 1/2 cups of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you wish to use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love it.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guarana, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind."

MERCHANT MARINE PLANS DISCUSSED

Delegates From 15 States Gather to Hear of Shipping Board's Views.

Whether the United States should abandon gradually its government-operated merchant marine or, still holding it, modernize it and further expand it, was the chief topic for discussion at a conference in Hotel Statler today of representatives of 100 chambers of commerce and foreign trade bodies of 15 Central States.

Malcolm M. Stewart, chairman of the Middle West Foreign Trade Committee, said experience had disproved the statements of advocates of immediate sale of the Shipping Board's boats that they would be supplanted by privately-owned American ships. On the contrary, Stewart said, as fast as the Shipping Board abandons lines, foreign lines step in.

Originally the Shipping Board established 33 lines. Eight of the most prosperous have been sold. Twenty-five remaining lines have contributed materially to the upbuilding of American foreign commerce.

Other speakers directed the attention of the delegates to such problems as "The importance of through import and export bills of lading," on which W. F. C. Hart of St. Louis, president of the Bankers' Association for Foreign Trade, spoke. J. F. Reed, president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau of St. Paul, spoke on "The farmers' interest in the American merchant marine"; Carl Gleason, general manager of the New Orleans Joint Traffic Bureau, on "Import and export rail rates"; and Homer L. Ferguson, president of the National Council of American Shipbuilders, headquarters at Newport News, on "Shipbuilding and the operation of the American merchant marine."

William T. Donnelly of New York was talking on "The importance of marine insurance in the development of our foreign commerce," at the afternoon session.

The conference will close with a dinner tonight at Hotel Statler, when the report of the Resolutions Committee will be received.

Weigh the values when you trade-in your present car

A dollar taken in with the right hand and paid out with the left leaves you with no dollar at all.

Remember this simple arithmetic when you trade-in your present car for a new car. For if an excessive offer is made possible by an excessive price on the new car, you are simply swapping dollars.

These are basic facts about used car allowances:

- 1 When you trade-in your present car for a new car, you are making a purchase, not a sale. You are simply applying your present car as a credit toward the purchase price of a new car.
- 2 Your present car has only one fundamental basis of value; i. e., what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.
- 3 Your present car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.
- 4 The largest allowance is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; sometimes it is not.
- 5 An excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.
- 6 First weigh the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in allowance offered on your present car.

Infant Care

Mothers, you can't start too early to establish a child's serene and tranquil disposition. Even an infant can have a happy, fretless state of interrupted health. What will help this? A simple, purely vegetable product as old as you are; plain Castoria.

A few drops of Castoria will settle all uneasiness in a jiffy. Will dispel colic or ward off constipation; and act as a sure check diarrhoea. In real sickness, call a physician. But many physicians urge only Castoria for those little childish disorders that need nothing more. You need never be afraid to give pure Castoria. It is safe and perfectly harmless, for it contains no narcotics, no opiates, no dose of any kind. At least, this is true of the genuine Fletcher Castoria—and that the kind doctors tell you always.

Whether Castoria is fine for any child. All children love to take it.

Infant Care

Mothers, you can't start too early to establish a child's serene and happy disposition. Even an infant can have a happy, fretless state of interrupted health. What will help this? A simple, purely vegetable product as old as you are; plain Castoria.
 A few drops of Castoria will settle all uneasiness in a jiffy. Will dispel colic or ward off constipation; and as surely check diarrhea.
 In real sickness, call a physician.
 But many physicians urge only Castoria for those little childish disorders that need nothing more. You need never be afraid to give pure Castoria. It is safe and perfectly harmless, for it contains no paracetamol, no opiates, no dope of any kind. At least, this is true of the genuine Fletcher Castoria—and that the kind doctors tell you always is.
 Fletcher's Castoria is fine for any child. All children love to take it.

SLAIN INVENTOR IS SAID TO HAVE HAD TWO WIVES

First Says Engineer, Shot at Telephone in Highlands (N. J.) Shop, Repudiated Her 2 Years Ago.

By the Associated Press.
 HIGHLANDS, N. J., Nov. 16.—
 Stories of two women that they were the wives of Herbert O. Melterknecht, inventor and engineer, who was shot dead while telephoning in his workshop, were regarded by authorities today as turnish-ing a motive that dove-tailed with statements attributed to a brother-in-law sought as the slayer.
 Police said that Alex Schreiber,
 a brother of Mrs. Sophie Melterknecht, had charged the inventor's marriage to his sister was bigamous.
 Irving Parker, a lobster-man said Schreiber had run from the workshop after the shooting, and had handed him a card with his name and address on it, with the words "I have shot my brother-in-law."

Mrs. Susan Melterknecht, coming from Yonkers with her 15-year-old daughter, told police she had never been divorced from the inventor, but that he had left her about two years ago when he told her he loved the woman who later became known as the second Mrs.
 Melterknecht.

Made Her Sign Document.
 At the parting, the first wife said, he made her sign a document that she had been only his housekeeper. He had sent her money since then, she said, but she had only seen him once, at the funeral of their son who died last month.
 After the funeral, she said, he had written her letters intimating a desire for reconciliation.

She declared she had known nothing about the other Mrs. Melterknecht beyond the information given her by three men who called on her at her home in Yonkers recently, saying they were Cleveland detectives and asking her whether she had been divorced from Melterknecht. She told them she had not been and they left.

Mrs. Sophie Schreiber Melterknecht, formerly of Cleveland, stopping with friends at Red Bank, is under $10,000 bond as material witness. She told police her brother had repeatedly called the inventor a "bad character" and charged he was not divorced from his first wife.

Tried to Take Her Home.
 He had come to the home Monday, she said, and had tried to take her back to Cleveland. It was one o'clock when he left, she said, 45 minutes before Melterknecht was slain.

Peter J. Olde, lawyer and business partner of the inventor, who summoned aid when the sound of five shots interrupted his telephone conversation with Melterknecht from Elizabeth, N. J., giving first intimation of the crime, is under $5000 bond as a witness.

Search for Schreiber turned towards Cleveland, when police heard he boarded a train at New ark. A suspect detained at Trenton, N. J., was released when police from Highlands failed to identify him as Schreiber.

WED 48 YEARS, GETS DIVORCE
Thomas L. Jefferson, Actor, Charged Wife With Cruelty.

By the Associated Press.
 RENO, Nev., Nov. 16.—On the ground that his wife treated him cruelly because his love scenes on the stage "were too ardent and emphatic interpretations," Thomas L.
 Jefferson, actor, was granted a divorce here yesterday.

Jefferson said his wife protested against his stage career "for the purpose of harassing and annoying him," which interfered with his profession and happiness. He also complained of religious differences.
 He filed the suit here Aug. 10, against Mrs. Eugene Paul Jefferson. They had been married 48 years and separated in 1912, he declared. Jefferson was the successor of Frank Bacon in the play,
 "Lightnin'" and has appeared in the role that made his father and grandfather famous, "Rip Van Winkle." Jefferson lives in Hollywood.

ADVERTISMENT FINE FOR CHILDREN!

Give them a good start in life, with happy smiles and healthy little bodies. Children need a mild corrective occasionally to regulate stomach and bowels. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a safe vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. They tone up and regulate the eliminative tract. Not a nasty cathartic or a habit-forming medicine, but a safe pleasant remedy for constipation, sour stomach, torpid liver, bad breath, and similar disorders. Dr. Edwards, a widely-known family physician of Ohio, prescribed these tablets for many years in his own practice. Children from six years up are greatly helped by them and like to take them. Recognized by their olive color. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets overcome those irritable spells that many children are subject to, keep their bodies in active healthy condition, skin clear and eyes bright with the light of perfect health. 15c, 50c and 60c
 sizes.

LIEUT. HOAGLAND GOES HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Police Officer Was Treated for 14 Weeks for Blood Poisoning
 in Right Arm.
 Police Lieutenant Elias W. Hoagland, who, for 14 weeks, has been at St. John's Hospital for treatment to prevent the spread of blood poisoning in his right arm, yesterday was permitted to return to his home. Several times during Hoagland's stay at the hospital it was feared the arm would have to be amputated.
 The blood poisoning developed after a raid led by Hoagland on a saloon, during which Hoagland was attacked by a man in the place who grasped two fingers of Hoagland's right hand and pulled them apart, splitting the skin. Fearing infection might develop, Hoagland had the wound treated immediately at city hospital. Subsequently the hand became swollen and he was sent to St. John's Hospital. Hoagland formerly was Chief of Detectives.

Cleans So Thoroughly, Even Perspiration Can't Offend

All the trick laxatives in the world can't tempt people who understand the properties of cascara.
 A hundred different drugs will purge the bowels, but a little natural cascara purifies the system clear through. Cleanses even the pores of your skin. Renders perspiration as inoffensive as so much dew!
 Your grandparents took "salts," and slowly washed away the mucous membrane with the waste! Mineral oils are better, but they leave the coating that your blood must then carry off through the pores. But when you cascade the system, you get rid of all the poisons by normal muscular action of the bowels.
 Don't get in the habit of taking medicine for constipation—or even for auto-intoxication. If you have the habit, stop it. A candy cascara is a delightful form in which to take cascara; children love them and the taste tempts most grown-ups to take "more." And what a comfort to know you are in the clean, wholesome condition that does away with any need of deodorants, even in warmest weather! Try a cascara tonight! At all druggists, 10c and 25c.

tee a resolution criticizing barge line management, but withdrew it when the chairman, Roy Miller of Corpus Christi, convinced them that such attacks were not association business.

Several hundred persons were registered, and about 1000, sometimes more, attended all sessions, making this the biggest meeting of the association. Many remained for the Middle West Foreign Trade and Merchant Marine Conference, lending force to the association's declaration that the Merchant Marine was "of equal importance" with inland waterways "in the transportation of our exportable surplus."

The new board of directors, to which three members were elected from each state, includes: Missouri—Frank G. Crowell, Kansas City; John F. Queeny, St. Louis; Charles Waddles, St. Joseph, Illinois—A. There are little devices (Speed Recorders) on our locomotives that keep an accurate record—really a log—of each run. That way our men can be sure that our trains are always running within the prescribed Burlington speed—a speed that is uniform, safe and smooth, giving you travel comfort by day and sound sleep at night.

Just a little example of how far we go to make your ride enjoyable. Can we help you arrange your next trip?

NATURAL GAS FOR ST. LOUIS DISCUSSED

Price Will Decide Whether $30,000,000 Pipe Line from Louisiana Shall Be Built.

It appears that negotiations among varied interests which have been in progress for several weeks, will be resolved shortly for construction of a pipe line to bring natural gas to the St. Louis district from the Louisiana oil fields, 450 miles away.

The decision depends chiefly on whether a sufficiently large consumption can be found in the district to justify the investment of $30,000,000 in a pipe line and whether the three or more interests controlling the supply can pool their holdings to guarantee a supply for 20 to 30 years at a delivered price low enough to supplant artificial gas.

It is estimated that the district will have to contract for at least 50,000,000 cubic feet a day to justify the pipe line. That is about twice as much as the total city of St. Louis now uses for all purposes.

Consequently, there is being brought to the negotiation, the St. Louis County Gas Co., which supplies St. Louis county and which is owned by Union Electric Light and Power Co., a subsidiary of the North American Co.; the Illinois Power and Light Co., another subsidiary, in part, of North American Co., which supplies East Side Lacade Gas Light Co., the vendor to the City of St. Louis.

Price of natural gas at this terminus of the pipe line seems to be the factor on which the project will turn. If that price is low enough to permit the offering of very low rates to industries and to residences for heating and thus stimulate wholesale consumption, the line is likely to be established. The East Side industrial district has many plants which could use gas in large quantities for industrial heating. The gas would supplant oil. Probably it could not supplant coal in industry to any large extent.

It is expected that the owners of the gas supply in the field will make a definite proposal as to price within the next week or two.

FUR FIRM HEAD EXPLAINS SALES DETECTIVE MADE

J. L. Frank Declares That Sergeant Williams, His Friend, Was His Agent, but Got No Profit.

OFFICER WILL BE CALLED AS WITNESS

Fee Paid Attorney Bender Just Before Bankruptcy of Davison-Frank Co. Inquired Into by Referee.

An explanation of Detective Sergeant Frank Williams' dealings in furs, related in yesterday's Post-Dispatch, was offered before Referee in Bankruptcy Coles yesterday afternoon by John L. Frank, president and silent member of the defunct Davison-Frank Fur Co., 1121-23 Washington avenue.

At the first hearing in the case Goliath Davison, vice president and treasurer of the concern, told of paying the city detective $600 for 200 muskrat skins and of making up four fur coats on Williams' order.

Frank's explanation, given under oath, disclosed that the sale of the 200 skins constituted but one item in a series of transactions in which Detective Williams handled thousands of dollars' worth of furs for Frank.

Frank said he was a fur sorter for the B. Harris Wool Co., Second and Walnut streets, during the fur season. The other six months of the year Frank said he jobbed furs, which he bought raw and had dressed as they are sold. One of Frank's customers was the Davison-Frank Fur Co., in which he had invested $6500 and of which he is president.

Detective Was Agent.

"I wanted to sell the Davison-Frank company furs," as I thought I could let the company have them at a price," Frank explained. "The concern owed me money, however, on notes that were a year overdue and I hesitated to extend credit, for the president of a concern might have some difficulty collecting from his company for goods he sold it. I asked Williams, whom I have known for 25 years and who worked with me at a fur house before joining the police force, if he would sell Davison-Frank for me. Williams agreed and in 1926 sold the company 4000 muskrat skins for me and this year handled some more skins. He turned the money over to me and never kept anything for himself."

Frank testified that he instructed Williams to sell the furs under the representation that they were his own. "I thought he could collect a lot easier than I could—and he did," Frank added.

Frank disputed his partner Davison's account of how Williams ordered four fur coats made up for women relatives, declaring the furs that went into the coats belonged to him and that he expected to possess them under a reclamation petition filed in Williams' name. A $400 loan to the Davison-Frank Fur Co., which Frank collected by suit through a third person was also disclosed. Frank declaring he sold the note for its full value to a chance acquaintance, admitting, however, that an attorney employed by him filed the suit.

His Fee to A. Samuel Bender.

Davison, recalled to the stand, was questioned concerning a $523 fee paid to A. Samuel Bender, an attorney, a short time before the firm went into bankruptcy. Davison testified he employed Bender as personal attorney when a creditor threatened prosecution for the alleged forging of trade acceptances by Davison and to pacify a woman customer, whose $550 fur coat sent to the cleaners was not returned. Davison said he did not know whether the complainant had actually sought warrants against him, but that he deemed it wise to employ counsel. He said Bender agreed to handle the matter for $700 and had accepted customers' checks amounting to $523 on account. At the first hearing Davison testified that Mrs. Ruth Bender, wife of the attorney, had been permitted to take home a $125 fur coat upon payment of $25, but declared he expected to collect the $100.

The Davison-Frank Fur Co., which operated a retail store in the Ambassador Theater Building, was placed in bankruptcy this month with debts of about $15,000 and assets of $3500.

Detective Sergeant Williams' connection with the case is under investigation by the Police Department, a representative of Chief Kaiser having been present at yesterday's hearing. Williams will also be called to testify in the bankruptcy investigation.

THREE MEN BEING CONSIDERED TO LEAD INDIANS, SAYS REPORT

COLLINS, HARRIS AND FLETCHER ARE MENTIONED

New Owners Are Silent—Sale of Franchise to Financiers Ends Dunn Interests in Cleveland.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. CLEVELAND, Nov. 16.—With the announcement of the new owners of the Cleveland club of the American League that a new manager would be signed for the 1928 campaign, rumors were running thick here today as to the identity of the man who will succeed Jack McCallister, who handled the club in 1927.

Three names headed the list. They were those of Eddie Collins, at one time leader of the White Sox and last season a private under Connie Mack; Art Fletcher, former manager of the Phillies and last year coach of the Yankees, and "Buddy" Harris, present manager of the Senators.

However, it seemed that Collins and Fletcher were leading. It is expected that either of these men can be obtained. Mack has been cutting down on high-priced stars and would not stand in Collins' way if he wanted to take the place. And Higgins would hardly hold Fletcher if he had a chance to manage a club.

New Owners Are Silent. With Harris it is different. It is understood that his contract with Washington has another year to run and it is probable that President Griffith will hold him. Reports are that Harris is dissatisfied with the Washington fans' attitude toward him last year and wants to get away.

But the new men behind the club, Alva Bradley, his brother Charles, John M. Sherwin Sr. and Percy Morgan, all Cleveland financiers, are silent except to state that they are seeking a new manager and that the man will be one who has not previously been connected with the team. This latter statement leaves out Tris Speaker, former manager of the club, who had been mentioned for the position.

Paid $500,000. Report. The sale of the local franchise was completed yesterday, when Alva Bradley received word from E. S. Barnard, former president of the team and now head of the American League, that he had obtained from W. J. Garvey of Chicago, 156 shares of the Cleveland club stock. The deal has been hanging fire for several months.

Although the price was not made public, it is understood that the new owners paid in the neighborhood of $500,000. Alva Bradley is slated to become president of the club.

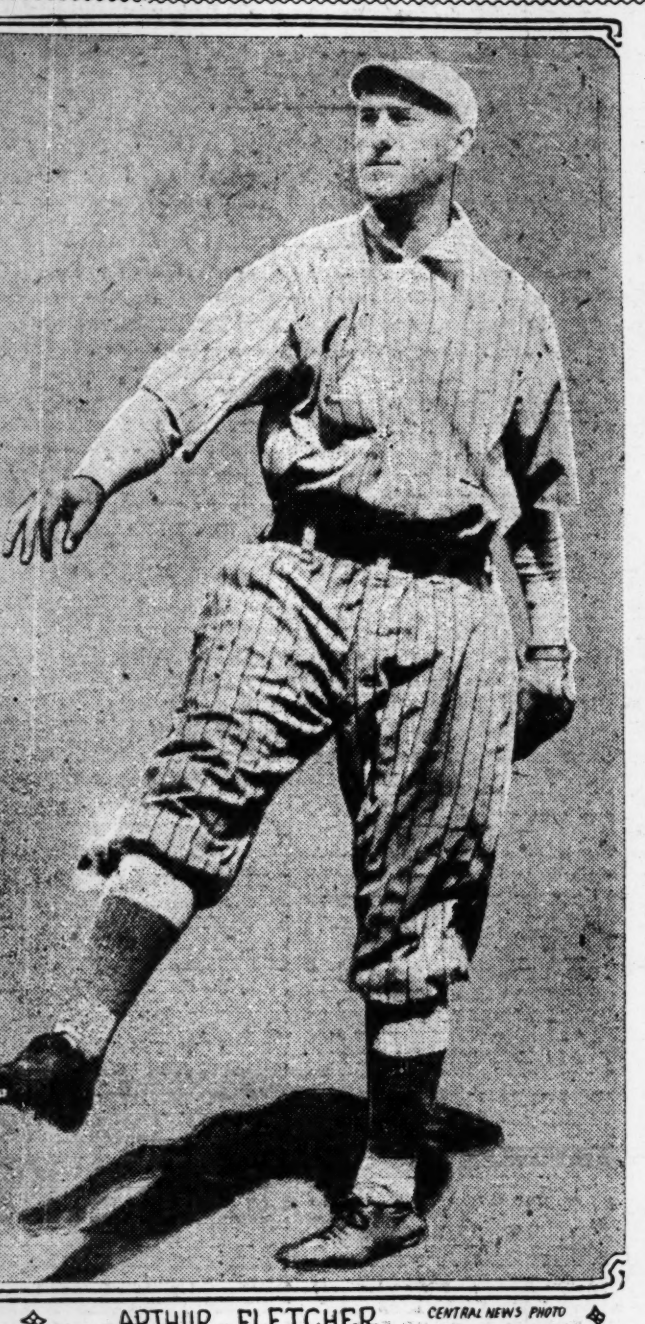

Sale of the franchise ends the ownership of the Dunn interests which started with the purchase of the team by the late James C. Dunn from Charles Sommers in 1916.

NATIONAL PRO HOCKEY LEAGUE OPENS WITH PLAY IN FIVE CITIES

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The National Hockey League season for 1928 was just one day old today—the only day in the year that five teams can share first place in the standing while the rest are no worse off than second.

A share of the spotlight was today for the New York Rangers, for in defeating the Toronto Maple Leafs 4 to 2, the local squad lost the services of "Tuffy" Abel, Giant defense star, probably for the greater part of the season. Abel suffered a fractured left wrist in a mixup close to the Ranger net in the first period. He played five minutes before pain forced him from the ice to a hospital.

ARTHUR FLETCHER

Spectators Should Not Be Allowed to Crowd Golf Course During Title Play—Jones

Large Gallery Dashing Around and Ahead of Players Offers Great Handicap — Watchers Are Often Hit by Drives.

By Bobby Jones Jr., National Open, British Open and Southern Champion. Recently I read a line or two about the turn which a pebble or a blade of grass could give to a golf match. But pebbles and grass are on every golf course and are as much a part of every game as the hole itself. Every golfer is familiar with these friends or enemies as they may be and has learned to accept more or less philosophically the breaks occasioned thereby. But every golfer does not have the opportunity to play before a large crowd of spectators and is not so familiar with new elements introduced into the game by the presence of these people.

About 25 years ago a gallery of 2000 was considered remarkable even at St. Andrews. Now at Prestwick and St. Andrews the crowds on championship days number upwards of twelve and fifteen thousand people.

These enormous crowds surging around in the wake of players and dashing ahead to vantage points around the green are bound to be important factors in the play. And they are factors not because they may worry or disconcert a nervous contestant. Learning to play before a large gallery is as much a part of a contestant's education as the mastering of his clubs. But spectators make the worst kind of hazards because they will not keep still.

Spectators Often Hit. At Minikahda, in the last amateur championship, the spectators were permitted to line themselves three and four deep behind the greens; the first row sitting, the second kneeling and the others standing. Of course, it was an absolute impossibility for them to avoid a ball which might come bounding toward them, and more than once a shot was stopped upon the putting surface by some earnest but misguided onlooker.

Such a thing obviously should not be permitted; and Minikahda galleries were better handled than those encountered elsewhere. Even at Oakmont, where three national championships have been played and where marshals and spectators should know better, I saw Armour's ball in the play-off with Cooper strike a woman who was sitting back of the tenth green, when it would without doubt have gone into the bushes beyond.

Leaves Lane Too Narrow. The great trouble is that the average spectator has too great a confidence in the infallibility of

COACHES MEET TO SCHEDULE TITLE CONTESTS

Plans Being Laid to Decide St. Louis District High School Grid Supremacy.

By Gerald Holland.

A high school football team may be established as champion of the St. Louis district if plans of the coaches of the probable winners in the County, Preparatory and Public High School leagues materialize.

Coaches Ed McCarty of the St. Louis University High School and eleven and A. A. Wahlbrink of the Maplewood team will meet this afternoon to discuss the proposed game between the two eleven's. The winner of the game will seek an engagement with the victor in the public high school race.

Maplewood, St. Louis U. High and Roosevelt appear to be the winners, respectively, in the County, Preparatory and Public High School organizations. All three champions are likely to be determined Saturday, when the eleven's will close their league schedules.

Maplewood will play St. Charles and a victory will give Wahlbrink's eleven a clear claim to the title. St. Louis can win the Preparatory League championship by beating or tying Western, and Roosevelt can take the flag in the Public High School League race with a victory over Central.

Wahlbrink and McCarty appear to favor Friday, Nov. 25, as the date of the St. Louis-Maplewood game. Roosevelt, if it beats Central, is likely to meet the champions of Chicago on the day following. The winner of the former game would meet Roosevelt on Dec. 2.

A rule of the Missouri State High School Athletic Association states that all football schedules must close on the last day of November. Secretary Carl Burris of the State body, who is principal of Clayton High School, has stated, however, that the Board of Control would very likely grant permission to play the post-season game. Lee R. Carlson, coach of Roosevelt, told the Post-Dispatch today that he had no objection to playing the winner of the proposed St. Louis-Maplewood game providing the permission of the State association was obtained.

All arrangements will depend, of course, upon victories of the three teams concerned Saturday.

BOSTON AMERICANS SIGN DOHERTY, STAR HOLY CROSS CATCHER

By the Associated Press. BOSTON, Nov. 16.—Edward Doherty, star catcher of the Holy Cross baseball team, has been signed by the Red Sox. He will report to the club when it starts South for its training tour in the spring.

MANDELL EASILY DEFEATS MYERS IN 10 ROUNDS

Lightweight Champion Is Given Edge in Every Session—Contest Was Non-Title Affair.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Sammy Mandell's rule over the lightweight division of fistiana was more secure than ever today. Exhibiting an improved defense and a dazzling offense, Mandell easily outpointed Jimmy "Spug" Myers, the Pocatello, Idaho, slugger, in a 10-round bout at the Coliseum last night.

The champion's title was not at stake as he and Myers fought above the lightweight limit, but the victory improved Mandell's mental attitude toward his present challengers. It was his third major engagement since winning the title here 14 months ago.

So ingenious was Mandell's defense that Myers, always a sharp-shooter, failed to land a single blow on the champion's jaw until the fifth round. In the meantime, Mandell peppered Myers with lefts to the face and right crosses to the jaw. In the sixth round, Mandell dropped a short right cross to the chin that knocked Myers spinning into the ropes. But Myers lived up to his reputation for aggressiveness, always boring into the champion's sharp attack.

Judges gave Mandell all 10 rounds. Al Foreman, a 130-pounder from Washington, won the referee's verdict over Frankie Fink, Dallas, Tex., in the semifinal.

HORWEEN WILL COACH HARVARD AGAIN IN 1928

Announcement of Signing by Director of Athletics Sets at Rest Rumors of Change.

By the Associated Press. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 16.—Arnold Horween, Harvard's head coach of football, has another year in which to make good, and news of his reappointment served today to inspire the Harvard team to fresh heights in its preparation for Saturday's classic with Yale.

Horween, despite his not particularly outstanding record at Harvard, has been popular with his men, a situation not enjoyed by all of his predecessors, and the squad welcomed the announcement of William J. Bingham, director of athletics, that the Chicago man would be back at the helm in 1928.

ment set at rest newspaper speculation concerning Horween's status at the end of the present season. The athletic director reiterated his previously expressed confidence in his coach and his known view that it takes a matter of years for a football mentor to become established.

Last year Harvard lost five out of eight games including the all-important Yale contest while this year, in the face of a much stiffer schedule but with the assistance of better material, it has won four and lost three.

"Harry Pollard says Luckies have a delicious flavor and I agree"

Said Lew Cody to Bert Roach while they were resting between the taking of scenes while "on location."

You, too, will find that LUCKY STRIKES give the greatest pleasure—Mild and Mellow, the finest cigarettes you ever smoked. Made of the choicest tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"IT'S TOASTED"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

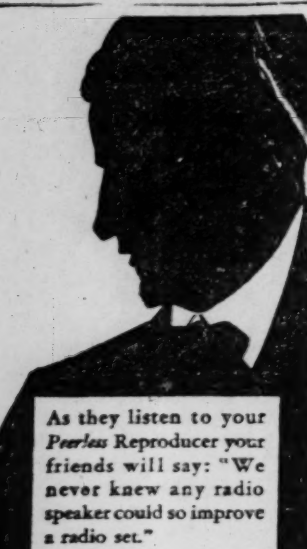

Harry Pollard, Director of Feature Photoplays, writes:

"The completion of my latest feature 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' for Universal Pictures Corporation, has once more proven to me that Lucky Strikes are the ideal cigarettes for those of us whose voices are under continuous and intense strain. In making this picture, I was, for many hours at a time, shouting directions to a host of players. At the same time I smoked many Lucky Strikes. I never felt the slightest throat irritation, and the delicious flavor of these cigarettes was a welcome relaxation in my work."

Notable Women of Washington

No. 3—MRS. HERBERT HOOVER

To Be a Background for Her Husband Is the Goal of Mrs. Herbert Hoover, but She Has Also Led Her Own Full Life.

WASHINGTON. Mrs. Hoover is recognized as a woman who has helped her husband to help himself. By her ability to secure co-operation, she has been able to change charity from a temporary giver-and-receiver basis and place it on a solid foundation of the unfortunates are where they can fight their way through natural or economic disaster such as famines, floods, wars and the consequences of these. Mrs. Hoover is the giver, and such is the form of charity as a giver-and-receiver basis. Mrs. Hoover is the giver, and such is the form of charity as a giver-and-receiver basis.

What few persons realize is that Mrs. Hoover is in her home life. She is one of the most admired and the least known women in the public life of the Capital, where many wives overshadow and sometimes dominate their office-holding husbands.

Of all the "official" homes in Washington, none is so homelike as the spacious and comfortable Hoover residence on S street with its large old-fashioned garden in the rear. It is a home for relaxation and repose, not a place of a hostess.

Wherever Hoover has gone, Mrs. Hoover has established an American home—in the Australian bush, in the jungles of India, in China, in Japan, in South Africa, in England, in Washington. She can add housewifely touches to an engineering's home as she preside with ease at the tea table of a French or English reception. Hers has been a life of adventure and she has the peace that comes only from varied experience.

From her college days at Leland Stanford University she has been a companion to her pioneering husband. She took the same engineering courses he took, and made her mark there in some of them. With him she translated from the Latin Agricola's "De Re Metallica," a sixteenth century treatise on the history of metals, which until the Hoovers tackled, the technical passages had remained untranslated. Their translation has been published by an English printing house.

Friends who knew Herbert Hoover and Miss Lou Henry Hoover said that their engagement was not the usual college romance—in fact, they say, there wasn't any engagement at all. As soon as Hoover got a job that would support his wife, he telegraphed her to come on. She went.

Together they roved the world. When the babies came, Herbert Clark and Allan Henry, they took them along on the long engineering ventures. Before making one trip, however, Mrs. Hoover went to the greatest baby specialist in Europe and interviewed him on the care and feeding of babies. She jotted down in her notebook what he told her. Among other things, the specialist recommended a certain type of canned milk as being better than fresh milk. When the engineering caravan started, it contained much of this brand of milk to outlast the longest stay. Mrs. Hoover said that she had very little trouble in raising her boys.

The tale of an amusing incident that happened while the family was in China. The Germans stole the cow which supplied the Hoover baby with milk. The new freed and mourned the loss of the offspring. The Hoovers negotiated with the Germans for the return of the calf, making much of the mourning of his mother. The Germans were apparently touched by the grief of the cow and decided to return the calf to the family. They then took the cow.

Mrs. Hoover, the novelist, tells a story about Mrs. Hoover and her children in London. Mrs. Hoover had invited a number of Americans to be her guests at the Rheingold Hotel of Opera, which began at 8 o'clock in the afternoon, and had an hour's intermission for dinner. Mrs. Hoover was there for the first sort of entertaining. When Col. Lindbergh came to Washington with his St. Louis backers, he and ago and is now first vice president and chairman of the executive board.

Four years ago she was able to secure a national meeting place in Washington for the scouts, and she did this in the way that has made her husband famous. The General Federation of Women's Clubs had built a model house on the lot just back of the Treasury, as an exhibit of the "Better Homes in America Association." It was visited by tens of thousands and then ceased to be an exhibit.

The scouts needed a "little house" for national meetings. The exhibit house was no longer of use to the women's clubs, but it could easily be adapted to scout needs. Merely for the cost of moving the house from the Treasury lot, the scouts got their national house. There was no publicity for Mrs. Hoover, but Washingtonians and scouts pointed to the significant fact that Mrs. Hoover was president of the girl scouts while her husband was president of the "Better Homes in America Association." The girl scouts benefited from that co-operation.

Like her husband, Mrs. Hoover has a tremendous sense of "the job." Her avowed life work is "to make a background" for her husband. She has succeeded in doing this and more. She has led her own full life.

Bacon and Poached Eggs. Fry several slices of bacon, drain and chop it. Make as many slices of toast as there are people to serve. When done butter it with a paste made of soft butter, a little anchovy paste, pepper, salt and a little grated onion. Sprinkle the bacon on each slice, then lay on a poached fresh egg. Sprinkle with a little paprika and then pour over a little smooth well-flavored cream sauce.

Of German invention is a device for injecting certain chemicals into living trees to render them immune to insects.

Mrs. Hoover respects her husband's Quaker taste and is always quietly dressed, usually in gray. For some time she wore no jewelry, but in later years she has worn some beautiful pearls. Diamonds, however, are apparently barred.

The Hoovers entertain extensively, but never lavishly. Washington, like any other American city, is a town where the great and the near-great try to outdo each other. Here, however, the entertainments take on a public interest lacking in other cities. Whether the official-looking husband likes it or not—and he usually likes it—the wife becomes a hostess.

There are far more social strata in Washington than people outside the capital realize. There are the diplomatic set, the Cabinet set, the senatorial set, the congressional set, the departmental official set and so on down the steps.

Logically, the Hoovers belong to the Cabinet set, but in that caustically frank book about the social life in the Capital, "The Boudoir Mirrors of Washington," the anonymous writer did not include Mrs. Hoover in her chapter on "Cabinet Wives." She was given 10 pages in her own chapter, while all the other wives were given a scant 16.

The Hoovers go in for a different sort of entertaining. When Col. Lindbergh came to Washington with his St. Louis backers, he and

BETTER COOKING

By Nancy Morris.

SIX months in a New Orleans home gave me more than a nodding acquaintance with Creole cookery. Not only was I served real Creole dishes in the real Creole way, but I was invited, pencil and pad in hand, into the kitchen while the actual cooking was under way and urged to peek into the cookpots.

Madame and her daughter Jeanne beautiful enough to put many a painted madonna to shame, were friendly to me because my paternal grandmother had been a strange little French girl in a new land. And I was not to lack for friends in a French-American home.

Madame, of pure French ancestry, was from the country district of Louisiana, and Monsieur liked to remember that he and Gen. Foch came from the same part of La Belle France. But so long had they lived in the beautiful Crescent City that their home life and cookery were typically Creole. Some of the dishes I will give you from time to time—last summer I printed Madame's stuffed tomatoes. Today we will make:

Shrimp-Stuffed Peppers.
Six large green peppers.
One pound fresh shrimp.
Three tablespoons butter.
One minced onion.
Tiny clove of garlic (optional).
Few sprigs of parsley or celery tops.

Two cups moistened bread.
One egg.
Tablespoon salt, or less.
Teaspoon Worcestershire.
Two strips bacon.

MADAME always bought fresh shrimp and cooked them at home. Here is the liquid she boiled them in until they were pink, or about five minutes: Two cups boiling water, teaspoon salt, leaf, a dried red pepper broken in bits, handful of celery tops, Cool and strip from the shells; only a short operation and worth it!

Our peppers are to be the principal dish at luncheon or dinner. Merely for the cost of moving the house from the Treasury lot, the scouts got their national house. There was no publicity for Mrs. Hoover, but Washingtonians and scouts pointed to the significant fact that Mrs. Hoover was president of the girl scouts while her husband was president of the "Better Homes in America Association." WHAT TO DO WHEN THE CHILD IS HURT

Bulletin of the Bureau of the United States Health Service

DO YOU KNOW what to do when your child is hurt?

When your child is hurt, unless the injury is very slight, call a doctor, advises a bulletin of the Bureau of the United States Health Service. Then loosen the little one's clothes examine him carefully and gently, looking for every possible injury. If you find no injury needing immediate attention, the first thing to do is to get the child into a comfortable position. Usually the best position is on the back with the head low. If the face is flushed raise the head on a small pillow or folded coat. Do not be afraid to give the child water if he demands it, but take care to give it slowly. Do not be in a hurry to move the child from the place where the accident occurred, and before moving him at all, make sure that the disturbance will not injure him further.

Shock, or collapse, accompanies most serious accidents and is characterized by pallor, quick pulse, sweating, thirst, shallow breathing and low blood pressure. The patient complains of cold, faintness and deadness in his limbs; he lies quietly, eyes staring straight before him and speaks only with difficulty. Shock requires a doctor's treatment, but you can help by applying heat. Put hot-water bags between the body and arms and place blankets or coats both over and under the patient to prevent heat from escaping. The child should lie on his back with head low so that the blood will tend to run into his brain. Never raise his head upon a pillow. If the child is able to swallow, give him as a stimulant a half teaspoonful of spirits of ammonia in half a glass of water, hot tea, hot beef tea or hot milk, repeating, if necessary, in half an hour. Spirits of ammonia or smelling salts can be inhaled if the patient cannot swallow. Do not give liquids to a child who is unconscious.

In severe burns always remember to treat for shock. When the skin is simply reddened and blistered from burns cover them with a paste made with water and baking soda, starch or flour, which will exclude the air. Vaseline olive or castor oil and fresh lard or cream are also good. Keep the dressing in place with a light bandage. If the blistering is very extensive, it is best to call a doctor. Deep burns should always be treated promptly by a physician. While waiting for him to arrive apply one of the dressings described. A solution of Epsom salts is a good dressing for burns.

Bad burns are sometimes caused by acids and alkalis. These should be treated in the same way as burns caused by heat after the following preliminary treatment: Wash burns of either type in water, preferably under a water tap, as quickly as possible; neutralize an acid burn by applying lime water, a mixture of baking soda and water, or soapwater; neutralize an alkali burn with vinegar or lemon juice. No matter what the type of burn, care should always be used in removing clothing. If the clothing sticks to the burn, do not pull it off. Cut around the part that sticks and soak it off later with oil. Never put cotton on a burn. It will stick worse than clothing and will be almost impossible to remove later.

The BENSON MURDER CASE

S.S. VAN DINE © CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS

THIS HAS HAPPENED.
After preventing the arrest of several suspected persons, Vance promises to solve the mystery on a certain date. He works up hypothetical cases against Mrs. Platts and Colonel Ostrander and then tears them to shreds—to prepare Markham to accept his case against the real murderer. He takes Markham to Major Benson's apartment where he finds a Colt .45, the type of gun with which Alvin Benson had been shot.

CHAPTER LV.

He extracted the magazine, and poured the cartridges onto the night-table, where they lay in a neat row before us. They were seven—the full number for that style of gun.

"Again, Markham, I present you with one of your revered clues. Cartridges that remain in a magazine for a long time become slightly tarnished, for the catch-plate is not air-tight. But a fresh box of cartridges is well sealed, and its contents retain their luster much longer.

He pointed to the first cartridge that had rolled out of the magazine.

"Observe that this cartridge—the last to be inserted into the magazine—is a bit brighter than its fellows. The inference is—you're an adept at inference, are you?—that it is a newer cartridge, and was placed in the magazine rather recently."

He looked straight into Markham's eyes.

"It was placed there to take the place of the one which Captain Hagedorn is keeping."

Markham lifted his head jerkily, as if shaking himself out of an encroaching spell of hypnosis. He smiled, but with an effort.

"I still think your case against Mrs. Platts is your masterpiece."

"My picture of the Major is merely blocked in," answered Vance. "The revealing touches are to come. But first, a brief recapitulation of the case against the Major."

"How did the Major know that brother Alvin would be home at 12:30 on the night of the thirteenth? He heard Alvin invite Miss St. Clair to dinner—remember, Miss Hoffman's story of his evening's reprieve—and he also heard her say she'd be home at midnight."

"When I said yesterday, after we had left Miss St. Clair, that something told us we would help control the guilty persons, I referred to her statement that midnight was her invariable hour of departure. The Major therefore knew Alvin would be home about midnight."

"Could he have secured an immediate audience with his brother on a deshabille? Yes. He tapped on the window; his voice was recognized beyond any shadow of doubt; and he was admitted instantly."

"Alvin had no serious objections in front of his brother, and would have thought nothing of receiving him without his teeth and toupee. He is the Major's right hand."

"He is purposely good beside him in your office the other day; and he is almost exactly five feet, ten and a half."

Markham sat staring silently at the disembowelled pistol. Vance had been speaking in a voice quite different from that he had used when constructing his hypothetical cases against the others; and Markham had sensed the change.

"We now come to the jewels," Vance was saying. "I once expressed the belief, you remember, that when we found the security for Pyle's note, we would put our hands on the murderer. I thought then the Major had the jewels; and after Miss Hoffman told us of his requesting her not to mention the package, I was sure of it."

Alvin took them home on the afternoon of the thirteenth, and the Major undoubtedly knew it. This fact, I imagine, influenced his decision to end Alvin's life that night. He wanted those baubles, Markham."

He rose jauntily, and stepped to the door.

"And now, it remains only to find 'em. The murderer took 'em away with him; they couldn't have left the house any other way. Therefore, they're in this apartment. If the Major had taken them to the office, someone might have seen them; and if he had placed them in a safe deposit box, the clerk at the bank might have remembered the episode. Moreover, the same psychology that applies to the gun applies to the jewels."

"The Major has acted throughout on the assumption of his innocence; and, as a matter of fact, the trinkets were safer here than elsewhere. There'd be time enough to dispose of them when the affair blew over. Come with me, Markham. It's painful, I know, and your heart's too weak for an anesthetic."

Markham followed him down the passageway in a kind of daze. I felt a great sympathy for the man, for now there was no question that he knew Vance was serious in his demonstration of the Major's guilt.

Indeed, I have always felt that Markham suspected the true purpose of Vance's request to investigate the Major's alibi, and that his opposition was due as much to his fear of the results as to his impatience with the other's irritating methods.

Not that he would have balked ultimately at the truth, despite his long friendship for Maj. Benson, but he was struggling—as I see it now—against the inevitability of circumstances, hoping against hope that he had read Vance incorrectly, and that, by vigorously contesting each step of the way, he might alter the very shape of destiny itself.

Vance led the way to the living-room, and stood for five minutes inspecting the various pieces of furniture while Markham remained in the doorway watching him through narrowed lids, his hands crowded deep into his pockets.

"We could, of course, have an expert search the apartment over inch by inch," observed Vance. "But I don't think it necessary. The Major's a bold, cunning soul; witness his wide square forehead, the dominating stare of his glaucous eyes, the perpendicular spine, and the indrawn abdomen."

"He's forthright in all his mental operations. Like Poe's Minister D—, he would recognize the futility of painstakingly searching the jewels in some obscure corner. And anyhow, he had no object in secreting them. He merely wished to hide 'em where there'd be no chance of their being seen. This naturally suggests a lock and key, what? There was no such cache in the bed-room—which is why I came here."

He walked to a squat rose-wood desk in the corner, and tried all his drawers; but they were unlocked. He next tested the table drawer; but that, too, was unlocked. A small Spanish cabinet by the window proved equally disappointing.

"Markham, I simply must find a locked drawer," he said.

He inspected the room again, and was about to return to the bed-room when his eye fell on a Circassian walnut humidor half hidden by a pile of magazines on the underself of the center-table.

He stepped abruptly, and going quickly to the box, endeavored to lift the top. It was locked.

"Let's see," he mused: "what does the Major smoke? Romeo y Julieta Perfectionados, I believe—but they're not sufficiently valuable to keep under lock and key."

He picked up a strong bronze paper-knife lying on the table, and forced its point into the crevice of the humidor just above the lock.

"You can't do that!" cried Markham; and there was as much pain as reprimand in his voice.

Before he could reach Vance, however, there was a sharp click, and the lid flew open. Inside was a blue-velvet lined case.

"Ah! 'Dumb jewels more quick than words,'" said Vance, stepping back.

Markham stood staring into the humidor with an expression of tragic distress. Then slowly he turned and sank heavily into a chair.

"Good God!" he murmured. "I don't know what to believe."

"In that respect," returned Vance, "you're in the same disheartened predicament as all the philosophers.—But you were ready enough, don't you know, to believe in the guilt of half a dozen innocent people. Why should you gaze at the Major, who actually is guilty?"

His tone was contemptuous, but a curious, inscrutable look in his eyes belied his voice; and I remembered that, although these two men were welded in an indissoluble friendship, I had never heard a word of sentiment, or even sympathy, pass between them.

Markham had leaned forward in an attitude of hopelessness, elbows on knees, his head in his hands.

"But the motive!" he urged. "A man doesn't shoot his brother for a handful of jewels."

"Certainly not," agreed Vance. "The jewels were a mere addendum. There was a vital motive—rest assured. And, I fancy, when you get your report from the expert accountant, all—or at least a goodly part—will be revealed."

"So that was why you wanted his books examined?"

Markham stood up resolutely.

"Come: I'm going to see this thing through."

Vance did not move at once. He was intently studying a small antique candelstick of oriental design on the mantel.

"I say!" he muttered. "That's a devilish fine copy!"

And Moses and Aaron went into the tabernacle of the congregation, and came out, and blessed the people: And the glory of the Lord appeared unto all the people. And there came a fire out from the Lord, and consumed upon the altar the burnt offering and the fat: Which when all the people saw, they shouted, and fell upon their faces.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST UNMASKED

By Aline Michaelis.

IT may be true that in the world of men one needs to wear a mask the whole day through, to hide the inner self and being when these must be sheltered from the casual view. For there are secret depths of joy and bliss, of love and longing that no man dares share with other eyes; hope's height and hate's abyss, and flowing wells of rapture and despair. But in the welcome hours of release from all restraints unfriendly eyes impose, in tranquil twilight or with dawn's peace, the soul must face the secrets that it knows. The issues of its good or evil ways must all be met, however hard the task; the self that hides through busy, toil-filled days must in the end confront itself, unmasked!

There was a vital motive—rest assured. And, I fancy, when you get your report from the expert accountant, all—or at least a goodly part—will be revealed."

"So that was why you wanted his books examined?"

Markham stood up resolutely.

"Come: I'm going to see this thing through."

Coffee in the Bulgarian Way

WITH the opening of the "season," Washington society is finding fresh charm in the varied foreign customs observed in the homes of members of the diplomatic corps.

Real Bulgarian coffee, for instance, is brewed and served to guests of members of the Bulgarian legation. Stephen Bissoroff, secretary of the legation and a native of the Bulgarian capital, Sofia, is in this fashion, but the minister, Simeon Radoff, follows the same custom when his wife, Mme. Bistrar Radoff, is at home and both take a hand at the brewing.

Each cup of coffee is made separately, in a polished brass dipper with a long handle. The water is boiled in a copper kettle, and poured upon at least a tablespoonful of pulverized coffee and three or four lumps of sugar, being constantly stirred until a thick, rich foam is formed on the top. Then the beverage is poured into tall, slender porcelain cups and served, with cream for American guests if they desire it. Dainty cakes flavored with rosewater accompany the beverage.

Another beverage favored by the Bissoroffs, however, does not find such ready acceptance as the coffee among Washingtonians. It is the Bulgarian fermented milk, made by placing a culture in sweet milk and letting it stand until it reaches a consistency approximately clabber.

Secretary Bissoroff refreshes himself with it many times a day and it is always on hand for guests who have acquired a taste for it.

BOTULISM IS DEADLY

By Chas. A. L. Reed, M. D.
Former President of the American Medical Association.

YOU, every once in a while, read of a lot of people who, suddenly and mysteriously, were taken ill. A number of them may have died. The subsequent inquiry resulted in a verdict of illness or death from botulism.

What is botulism?

Botulism is one of the worst food poisoning diseases known. It is very sudden in onset and very often fatal.

About eight hours after eating the offending food, the patient suffers from numbness of the throat and begins to see double. He loses hearing, and may die after a few hours from paralysis of the heart and lungs. The only instance recorded in Great Britain, where food control is most rigorous, was in 1923, when eight persons lost their lives through eating potted duck sandwiches.

The United States and Canada are not so fortunate. Between 1890 and 1926, in these countries, there were 496 cases and 223 deaths. This was a mortality of 66 per cent—a truly alarming percentage.

During the eight years 1918-1926 we had an average of thirteen outbreaks a year. In the three outbreaks that occurred in 1926 the deadly foods were string beans, trout or salmon, and asparagus. It is an interesting fact that in every instance the poisonous food was home-canned.

The disease comes from a bacillus, or germ, that multiplies in improperly sterilized food.

This bacillus is widely distributed. It lives in the soil and in dust, as well as in various food stuffs. It can exist without air. It seems to be more frequent west of the Rockies. The disease is usually due to preserved or processed foods, such as ripe olives, cheese, spinach and olives likewise have been incriminated.

Prevention is secured by using fresh foods, by cleanliness in preparing them, and by applying sufficient heat to kill the spores of the bacilli. Brine or syrup is a safeguard if strong enough. Acid fruits seem to be quite harmless.

Thorough cooking tends to protect, but if the food is infected the poison may form again afterwards.

Botulism in the United States has most frequently resulted from eating home preserved foods. The outbreak in Scotland, however, was caused by a factory product, contained in glass jars. The official who reported to the Scottish Board of Health on the outbreak stated that reputable firms took every precaution, but said that he would like to see glass jars abolished, since they do not readily stand heating to the point at which the microbes are killed.

He urged metal containers, on the other hand, as they can be heated to any temperature in reason.

It is hardly possible to make an antitoxin which will protect persons after they have been exposed to risk. Desirable as would be such treatment the time between cause and effect is so short that preventive inoculation would seem impracticable to avert death or serious illness, after the patient has shown symptoms of poisoning. In spite of this fact, however, we are informed that stocks of such antitoxins are kept in fever hospitals of four of the largest Scottish towns and probably also in most American cities. Needless to say, medical aid should be summoned as soon as possible after the appearance of the first symptoms which are generally dry throat and double vision. Every one should be treated who has eaten the same food as the patient whose illness is not.
